“Good morning and welcome to Day One of Montana’s 62nd Legislative Session. Welcome to Helena and if it is your first Session as a Legislator, welcome to the People’s House. I’d like to introduce you to my Goddaughter who is visiting with me this week and helping me open today’s House Session. Please welcome Ms. Katelyn Weldon. Katelyn is a 6th grader at Blue Creek Elementary School in Billings. Some of you might remember her father, former Senator Jeff Weldon. Welcome to the House, Katelyn! Sixteen years ago in the 54th Legislative Session, I sat in your seat Rep. McClafferty, and then in later sessions, your seat, Rep. Mehlhoff. In that 54th Session, I served with: Lieutenant Governor John Bohlinger (Seat: Rep. O’Neil, 1995-1997) Former Lieutenant Governor Karl Ohs (Seats: Rep. Gibson 1995, Rep. McGillvray 1997-1999) Governor Schweitzer’s Budget Director David Ewer (Seat: Rep. Reinhart, 1995) Public Service Commissioner Brad Molnar (Seat: Rep. Loney 1995-97, Rep.

MacLaren 1999) Rep. Squires (Seat: Rep. Frank Smith 1995 and, Rep. Edmunds 1997-99) The stories I could tell about Rep. Squires back in the olden days. It seems to me a good time to start to get to know your fellow Legislators and start to build your own stories and fond memories of your Legislative experience. Let's take a minute and start to build some collegial relationships: How many of you are first time Legislators, House or Senate? Raise your hands, keep them raised and look around at your colleagues. How many of you are serving in the Legislature of two or more years? Raise your hand if you have had family members serve in the Legislature? Anybody have a family member right now - in either the House or the Senate? Did any of you serve as a page in your earlier years? Did any of you visit this Capitol back in the day as a student on a field trip? How many of you drove more than 250 miles to get here to Helena for today? How many of you have served as an elected official in another capacity other than the Legislature (i.e. school board, mayor, county commissioner, etc.)? I remember the opening of my first Legislative Session. I walked into this chamber wondering what would be accomplished. Would my bills pass? What would be the final outcome of the Session? Folks in this chamber and around Montana are wondering what will be the outcome of the 62nd Legislative Session. What will this Legislature be known for? History does keep track of each Legislative Session, some more prominently than others. Will this chamber be known for compromising, or for bickering? Will party-line votes outweigh bipartisan support? And will you and your constituents be proud of the work that's accomplished? One of the early lessons I learned in public service as a young teacher is 'Just because you have the right to do something, doesn't mean it's the right thing to do...Just because you have the right to do something, doesn't mean it's the right thing to do.' Just because one party has the votes to outweigh another party, doesn't mean they should abuse their authority; Just because another party has the power of the veto, doesn't mean they should rely on it; and just because you have all been elected to serve your constituents, doesn't mean you should forget your neighbors. I think this is such an important message that many years ago I typed it on construction paper, using my Apple IIE computer. I hung on a wall in my classroom, I brought it with me to each Legislative Session, it hung in my office at OPI and now you will find it in my office downstairs at the Secretary of State's Office. It's just that important of a message. Just because you have the right to do something, doesn't mean it's the right thing to do. What matters most in the next 90 days, is that each of you has the power to do good work for the people of Montana. No one back home sends you here for negative reasons. Regardless, of whether they voted for you or not, they want you to do good for the people of Montana all the people of Montana. My first session in the House looked a lot like this one. Republicans held a majority over Democrats: 67 to 33. There is one more Republican this Session with 68 Republicans and 32 Democrats. The Senate was also similar with 17 Democrats and 33 Republicans in 1995 and now 22 Democrats and 28 Republicans this Session. In that 1995 Session the Governor was a Republican. Despite a 2 to 1 stronghold, both parties worked well together. Many of us – on both sides of the aisle - were able to pass our bills with strong support. Sure, we disagreed. But we respected each other and considered all opinions before making a decision. Compromise happened then, it's happened since then, and you all have the power to ensure it happens in the next 90 days. You are in this room because your constituents believe in your ability to reason, to work through disagreements, and to approach policy making in a civil manner. They want you to not only stand firm in your beliefs, but also to remember that you work for them – their beliefs matter most. Let's start this session on more than just a promise to work together. Let's start on the other side of the aisle literally! Please stand up. Now I want you to walk across the aisle – and introduce yourself to someone from a different party. Preferably someone whom you do not know. I want you to introduce yourself, shake hands or hug three people not from your own party. You absolutely cannot come back to your own seat until you have met at least three legislators not from your own party. Now get busy! At the end of the day, it's not about Democrat ideas or Republican ideas. It's about ideas that help Montanans. It's about supporting the good ideas, the fair ideas. Remember the issues. Remember the people you work for. Remember: Just because you have the right to do something, doesn't mean it's the right thing to do. And remember that you're on TV! Montanans are watching. Please join me in waving to the Montana school kids all over the state who are watching this ceremony today! What will the 62nd Montana Legislature be known for? The 100 of you sitting in this historic chamber in the seats of past Legislators will decide. The people of Montana await your decisions."

Secretary of State McCulloch introduced the Honorable Mike McGrath, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Montana. Representative McNutt and Representative Hollenbaugh escorted Chief Justice McGrath into the chamber.

Chief Justice McGrath administered the following oath of office:

"I do solemnly swear that I will support, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Montana and that I will discharge the duties of my office as a Montana State Representative with fidelity, so help me God. "

Secretary of State McCulloch thanked Chief Justice McGrath, and informed the members of the House of Representatives that he had been advised that all oaths of office had been signed and received. These were presented to the Chief Justice McGrath for his acknowledgment and then filed in the Secretary of State's office.

Secretary of State McCulloch called for nominations for the office of the Speaker of the House. Representative McGillvray nominated Representative Milburn. Representative Sesso moved that the nominations be closed. Motion passed.

Secretary McCulloch declared that Representative Milburn had been duly elected speaker of the House of Representatives for the 62nd Legislature. Representatives Reichner and Sesso escorted Speaker Milburn to the rostrum.

Speaker Milburn thanked Secretary McCulloch, Chief Justice McGrath, Professor Miles, and Mr. Milburn on behalf of the House and Representatives Arntzen and Hunter escorted them from the House.

Speaker Milburn addressed the House.

Representative McGillvray moved the following individuals be nominated as officers as the House of Representatives. Chief Clerk - Beth Cargo. Sergeant-at-Arms - Russ Bean. The House officers were appointed by unanimous consent.

"30-10-305. Injunctions and other remedies -- limitations on actions. (1) If it appears to the commissioner that any person has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of parts 1 through 3 of this chapter or any rule or order under this chapter, the commissioner may:

(a) issue an order directing the person to cease and desist from continuing the act or practice after reasonable notice and opportunity for a hearing. The commissioner may issue a temporary order pending the hearing that:

(i) remains in effect until 10 days after the ~~hearing~~ hearings examiner issues proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law and a proposed order; or

(ii) becomes final if the person to whom notice is addressed does not request a hearing within 15 days after receipt of the notice; or

(b) without the issuance of a cease and desist order, bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin any acts or practices and to enforce compliance with parts 1 through 3 of this chapter or any rule or order under this chapter. Upon a proper showing, a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or writ of mandamus must be granted and a receiver or conservator may be appointed for the defendant or the defendant's assets. The commissioner may not be required to post a bond. If the commissioner prevails, the commissioner is entitled to reasonable ~~attorneys'~~ attorney fees as fixed by the court.

(2) A final judgment or decree, criminal or civil, determining that a person has violated parts 1 through 3 of this chapter in an action brought by the commissioner for the violation, other than a consent judgment or decree entered before trial, is prima facie evidence against that person in an action brought against the person under 30-10-307.

(3) The commissioner may, after giving reasonable notice and an opportunity for a hearing under this section, impose a fine not to exceed $5,000 per violation upon a person found to have engaged in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of parts 1 through 3 of this chapter or any rule or order issued under parts 1 through 3 of this chapter. The fine is in addition to all other penalties imposed by the laws of this state and must be collected by the commissioner in the name of the state of Montana and deposited in the general fund. Imposition of any fine under this subsection is an order from which an appeal may be taken pursuant to 30-10-308. If any person fails to pay a fine referred to in this subsection, the amount of the fine is a lien upon all of the assets and property of the person in this state and may be recovered by suit by the commissioner and deposited in the general fund. Failure of the person to pay a fine also constitutes a forfeiture of the right to do business in this state under parts 1 through 3 of this chapter.

(4) (a) An administrative or civil action may not be maintained by the commissioner under this section to enforce a liability ~~founded~~ based on a violation of 30-10-201(1) through (3) or 30-10-202 unless it is brought within 2 years after the violation occurs.

(b) An administrative or civil action may not be maintained by the commissioner under this section to enforce a liability ~~founded~~ based on a violation of parts 1 through 3 of this chapter or any rule or order issued under this chapter, except 30-10-201(1) through (3) and 30-10-202, unless it is brought within 2 years after discovery by the commissioner or the commissioner's staff of the facts constituting the violation.

(c) An action may not be maintained under this section to enforce any liability founded on a violation of parts 1 through 3 of this chapter or any rule or order issued under this chapter unless it is brought within 5 years after the transaction on which the action is based.

(5) The commissioner in an administrative order requiring the payment of restitution or a court in a judicial order or judgment requiring payment of restitution may include a provision requiring a person determined to have violated any provision of parts 1 through 3 of this chapter to contribute an amount to the securities restitution assistance fund created by [section 4]."

MOTIONS

Representative McGillvray moved HB 93 be moved from the Committee of the Whole after second reading to the Appropriations committee.

Representative McGillvray moved HB 49 be moved from the Natural Resources committee to the Appropriations committee.

Representative Hiner moved to change her vote on HB 269 from no to yes. Without objection, so ordered.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Committee meetings were announced by committee chairs.

House recessed at 2:38 p.m.

House convened at 6:40 p.m. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

Roll Call. All members present, except Representatives Knox and McGillvray, excused.
Quorum present.

MOTIONS

Rep. Taylor moved that the House resolve itself into a joint session for the purpose of receiving the State of the State Address from the Honorable Brian Schweitzer, Governor of the State of Montana. Upon adjournment of the joint session, the House will be adjourned until the hour of 1:00 p.m., Thursday, January 27th. Motion carried.

Sgt-at-Arms Bean notified Speaker Milburn that the Honorable Senate of the State of Montana awaits outside the Chamber. Speaker Milburn requested Sgt-at-Arms Bean admit the Honorable Senate into the House chamber. Speaker Milburn introduced Senate President Peterson and yielded the Chair to him.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 26, 2011

Sen. Essmann moved that the body resolve itself into a joint session for the purpose of receiving the State of the State address from the Honorable Brian Schweitzer, Governor of the State of Montana. Motion carried.

Sen. Essmann moved that the President be authorized to appoint a committee of four to notify the Governor that we are in joint session and ready to receive the State of the State address.

President Peterson appointed Senators Williams, Vincent and Representatives Court and Vance and discharged them to escort the Governor into the Chamber.

President Peterson asked the members to stand for the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag led by the Third Grade Class from Montana City Elementary School. Colors were posted by the Montana National Guard.

President Peterson thanked the Montana National Guard and the Third Grade Class from Montana City Elementary School.

Invocation was given by Monseigneur O'Neill.

Sgt-at-Arms Clark announced that the Honorable, Governor Brian Schweitzer and the committee of four awaits entrance to the House.

President Peterson directed Sgt-at-Arms Clark to please admit the Governor.

President Peterson introduced the Honorable, Governor Brian Schweitzer.

Governor Schweitzer made the following remarks:

Thank you. Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, my fellow Montanans: It is my honor to address the 62nd meeting of the Montana Legislature.

First, I want to welcome my business partner, the mother of our children and on Sunday my wife for 29 years. Thanks for putting up with me, Nancy.

And I'd like to welcome my mother. About 30 minutes ago as she walked in, she looked me over, she said, "Aren't you going to shine your boots?" And I said, "Mom, I'll be standing behind a podium; they won't even see them." "Well, you should shine them anyways." And then she gave me a word of advice, remember Mom? She said, "Are you going to remember to thank the people of Montana for giving you this opportunity?" Good manners, mom. Thank you.

Lt. Governor John Bohlinger and Karen: John, remember seven years ago when we proposed to the people of Montana that we would try something that had never been done before? We said that a Democrat and a Republican can work together in governing Montana. Did you notice last night back there in Washington, D.C.; they're pretty proud of themselves for sitting together for one hour? In Montana, we've governed together for 6 years. Thank you for your leadership, thank you for your courage, thank you for your vision, John Bohlinger.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 26, 2011

Since we met last, two years ago roughly, we've lost some great Montanans. And I'll start with my father, Adam, who was born in Montana, left only to fight for our country during World War II and for nearly 9 decades was a proud rancher. While he and my mother never graduated from high school, his proudest moment was when he sent all six of his kids to university. Thanks, Dad, we're praying for you.

We lost an extraordinary leader, one of the greatest leaders in Indian Country, my friend Chairman Carl Venne of the Crow Nation. We'll miss you, Carl.

And two of our heroes that keep our highways safe, two highway patrolmen, David DeLaittre of Belgrade and Michael Haynes of Kalispell. God rest your souls.

We lost a volunteer EMT from Glasgow by the name of Melissa Greenhagen.

And once again, I stand before you as the Governor of Montana to report the names of the men who have given all in service to our country during the last two years. I'll read their names:

Andrew Charpentier, Great Falls;
Garnet Derby, Missoula;
George Anthony Kellum, Lame Deer;
Michael Rogers, White Sulphur Springs;
Terry Lynch, Shepherd;
Trevor Johnson, Forsyth;
Shannon E. Swartz, Great Falls;
Reginald "Reg" Richard Lawrence, Jordan;
Jed P. "Cole" Naisbitt, West Yellowstone;
Nicholas Cook, Hungry Horse;
Jeremiah Sipes, Belgrade;
Kerry Sweten, Columbus;
Ryan Buckles, Poplar;
Byron Whitcomb, Whitefish;
Shane Barnard, Box Elder;
Jeremiah Wittman, Billings;
Lawrence Gregor, Helena;
Nicolas Uzenski, Bozeman;
James Stright, Libby;
Benjamin Pigman, Hamilton.

Can we have a moment of silence to honor these men who gave their all? Thank you.

Well, Elvis isn't in the house tonight, but we have a lot of important guests, led by the Attorney General Steve Bullock. It's all right, give him a little love.

Secretary of State Linda McCulloch. We call her Auditor, but she's actually our Insurance Commissioner, Monica Lindeen, and our Superintendent of Public Instruction, Denise Juneau.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 26, 2011

We have our members of the PSC Commission here tonight. Thank you.

We have tribal leaders, who have come from many of our tribal nations across Montana. Thank you for making the trip.

We have Governor Tim Babcock and First Lady Betty Babcock. God bless you. Thanks for coming. Now, Betty's told me the story of how they, for a while, had a monkey while they were living in the Governor's residence, but that's a story for another night. Okay, Betty?

And members of my cabinet and my staff. I'm biased here, but I think we have the best educated, most dedicated cabinet and staff in the history of Montana. Thank you on my good days for making me look good. Thank you.

We share a common history and we must aspire to a common destiny. Our work during this 62nd meeting of the Legislature must be inspired by the collective goals, hopes, and dreams of the mothers and fathers across Montana.

And while we gather here in the capitol city for 90 days and nights - our bosses continue to do Montana's work in every community across Montana: the cook and farmer; the truck driver and the mechanic; the teacher and the student; the doctor and the nurse; the engineer and the contractor; the coal miner and boilermaker; the general and the soldier; the logger and carpenter; parents and children with big dreams under the big sky. Each morning at breakfast moms and dads prepare our leaders of tomorrow for the schools of today and each night they pray together. They pray together for a better and new day.

Your mission, members of this legislative assembly, is to prepare Montana for that new day, a day of more opportunity, more freedom, lower taxes, new opportunities, better schools and higher paying jobs.

And while building a Montana for those high paying jobs, we will not forget those who have protected us in the past. They fought for our individual freedoms, to be who we are, unique, and the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Now is time to bring Montana together. Don't divide us with divisive language and legislation. Let us celebrate diversity and not abridge our individual rights and choices.

Thomas Jefferson said, "The God who gave us life, gave us liberty."

Please bring me bills that unite Montana, bills that help our businesses create jobs, bills that prepare our students for a better tomorrow: I'll sign them. Each bill you send my office ought to create more, higher paying jobs. The people who sent us to this Capitol had two messages for us: work together and create more job opportunities in Montana as soon as possible.

These are serious times. Don't send me bushels of frivolous and feel-good bills and unconstitutional statements. If you aim for nothing, you will hit it every time... let's aim high, let's aim for higher paying jobs.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 26, 2011

Montana expects us to get a few things and to get them right. First, they expect you, this Legislature, to get a balanced budget back to my office in 90 days. Second, this is important, they expect you to reform a bloated, unworkable workers' compensation system that is fair for workers and helps small business start and grow in Montana. Third, and this might be your most important task and, if you get it right, it will create thousands of jobs in Montana. If you get it wrong or you don't finish it, there will be pink slips that go to workers across Montana. Montana expects you to fix the eminent domain laws. Do it soon, do it now. Let's get Montana working again.

It was Henry Ford that said "Don't find fault, find a remedy."

Montana has always been a state of dreamers, those gold miners who raked the gravel at Alder Gulch and later hit it rich at the Drumlummon mine. The homesteaders, like my grandparents, who came to Montana with just the clothes on their back, faith in God and the promise of owning their own land. The first Montanans who for hundreds of generations cared for our peaks and our prairies, our rivers and our wildlife, each generation protecting the dreams of the three generations before them and nurturing the dreams of the three generations that would follow them.

Yes, Montana, we are home to big dreamers, risk takers, and great doers. Let's help those dreamers soar to their goals. I've proposed a balanced budget for this body to consider that continues to invest in a world-class education; that protects the elderly, the disabled, the least fortunate; maintains our public safety; cuts taxes for homeowners and eliminates the business equipment tax and still maintains the second largest savings account in the history of Montana. A proposed savings account that is four times larger than the average savings account of the four previous administrations during the last sixteen years.

During the last six years, working together, we've cut more taxes for more Montanans than any time in history. We've attracted businesses, small and big, to start and grow in Montana. We've developed more new energy and we've created an education system that's more affordable, more accessible, more digital, and more relevant.

The great recession landed in Montana like the rest of the world. Legislature, in your absence, we made some tough decisions, and we cut five percent and more from the last budget that you sent me. The hardworking state employees, the people who do the work that matters, they started first and they agreed two years ago to a two-year salary freeze. And then we asked Montana for their ideas, and we got a thousand and more ideas on how to make Montana more efficient. The Lieutenant Governor and myself, we started by cutting $11,764 from our own salaries. Sorry, John. We sold 15 percent of the state's car fleet and we increased the gas mileage on the remaining fleet to 35 miles per gallon. We stopped out-of-state travel, we decreased in-state travel by replacing that travel with technology, and we stopped buying new computers. We decreased the number of state cell phones, and we curtailed the service plans for the ones that we had. We combined our state department servers and we reduced energy consumption by 20 percent in our state-owned buildings.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 26, 2011

I thought that's something Republicans, Democrats, everybody can clap for: reducing energy consumption.

We decreased the size of the workforce, we stopped printing state phone books, we re-negotiated building and office leases which rooted out sweetheart deals that were signed and negotiated by previous administrations. And our Department of Revenue contacted out-of-state companies who had not been paying their taxes for decades, and they collected $80 million, new dollars, to the state of Montana from people who owed us this money.

Today, we're one of few states in the black. We're one of a few states with cash in the bank. I asked Doctor No, the director of our budget office today, and I said "David, how much cash do we have in the bank?" And he said, "$330,997,350.84.

That's not an estimate. That's not an estimate, that's not a prediction, that's not some kind of a model. That's cash in the bank. Now, that probably doesn't mean a lot to folks. Well, how much money ought we to have in the bank. What's the normal amount? So, I looked into that and I can tell you this, that in the years before I was elected Governor, all the way back to 1889, we've never had a single time in the history of the state of Montana that we had $330 million in cold hard cash in the bank.

This is a good time to have cash, and we've heard a lot about revenue predictions. It was Niels Bohr who won the Nobel Prize that said, "Predictions are difficult, especially if they're about the future." Well, I agree. Predictions are difficult, but perhaps history is our best indicator of the future. The revenue predictors in this building, since I was elected Governor six years ago, have underestimated our revenue on average by three hundred and eight million dollars every biennium. Not sometimes high and sometimes low. Always low, always wrong and always way low.

Now, I know that there's many people like me that like to hunt in the fall and you know the ritual. In the fall of the year you go out to the range or you go out against a big hill and count off a hundred and fifty or two hundred yards and then you put that bull's-eye up and you slide one round in and squeeze a shot off and you look, eleven inches low. Try it again, twelve inches low. One more time, twelve inches low. Ah ha, we'll adjust. So, then you turn it three quarters of a turn up, you fire again, six inches high, quarter turn back, bull's-eye, we're ready.

Don't you think it's time for us to readjust how we make our guesses around here? Don't you think? Let me just say this: Let us commit to be weary of half-truths; we may just get the wrong half.

We have the money for our priorities, we have over $300 million dollars in the bank; and, even if the estimates of declining revenues are correct, and they're not, we can write a check from the savings that we have in the account and not raise taxes and still fund the critical priorities of Montana. That's good business management.

All of the economic indicators are up. I'll give you an example. For this year the revenue estimators had thought that maybe we would increase our total revenue by 2.75 percent. We're already six months into the year and we're increasing our revenues by approximately 10 percent. Dan Bucks, over at the Department of Revenue, told me yesterday that for the first six months, our wages withholding are on a pace this year to break the all-time record for wages withholding. Meaning simply this: This will be the year that wage earners will be paid more collectively, totally more than any time in history. That's got to be a good sign as well.

HOUSE JOURNAL

Coal and oil production up and prices are too. We're increasing our wind energy at one of the fastest rates in the country. Platinum, $785; gold, $1,325; copper, $4.24; and this last year we grew the biggest wheat crop in the history of Montana, 212 million bushels and all over Montana and they're selling it for $8 a bushel. The biggest hay crop in the history of Montana, well, even the Republicans clapped at a good hay crop, that's good, we're getting somewhere. And for the first time in a generation, both grain and cattle prices are high. The farm sector harvested $3 billion dollars and more for the very first time in the history of Montana: that's got to be a good indicator. There we go, Eric. Eric's clapping, because he's got a feedlot and he's buying a bunch of these expensive calves and he's hoping they'll be worth some money when he gets them fat.

But some Republican legislators talk like everything's broken in Montana. If you'd like to help, help us bring businesses to Montana, help us promote, accentuate the positive. Now, we're not perfect, we can improve, but the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times, Fox News, CNN and MSNBC hold Montana up as a model for fiscal discipline. Wall Street has improved Montana's bond rating for the first time in 30 years, and for the first time in the history of Montana, we now have a double A plus bond rating. There you go. The Republicans are for a good bond rating, I like that everyone likes a bond rating.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce has just named Montana the number one state in the nation to start and grow a business. The Tax Foundation has rated us the sixth most business friendly tax state, and we have the fourth most educated work force. Of course, during the last ten years, Montana's gross product, the aggregate of all of the service and products that we produce, has increased by 65 percent. During a ten-year period we've increased by 65 percent and during that time, for your information, while we grew our gross domestic product by 65 percent, we only increased the number of real state employees by 2.4 percent. I would put that record against any government, large or small, worldwide, any corporation, or any business, large or small, to increase your output by 65 percent and only increase the number of employees by two-point-four percent. Thank you, Montana state employees, for being so efficient. Thank you.

After more than a decade of effort, the Montana Land Board put the Otter Creek tracts up for competitive auction. We recruited one of the largest coal companies on the planet, Arch Coal, to write us a check for more than $80 million dollars just to have the right to begin to get the permits to open that mine. Let me tell you how important that mine is. That mine, during the next 30 years, will mine 1.5 billion ton of coal, approximately equal to all of the coal that we have mined during the history of Montana. It will create thousands of jobs, Duane Ankney, in your back yard, and it will send more than $5 billion dollars worth of royalties and taxes to this Legislative body to decide what to do with during the next thirty years. Thank you to the Montana Land Board. Thank you for your efforts.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 26, 2011

Now, the rest of the world recognizes Montana's business environment and money management skills. Montana's best days are ahead of us. I would ask Montana's leaders to join the course. Remember, it was the optimist who built the airplane, the pessimist who thought of the parachute.

I've invited, tonight, some of the companies that have proven to the world that Montana is the greatest place in the world to start a business. In 2009, some folks stopped into my office from a little mining company from Toronto, Canada, called RX Exploration. They said to me, "We've been buying a few of these mining patents in Montana. We're not sure what we're going to do, because we've been hearing that Montana's not a good place to mine. Regulations are tough, people don't want miners here, and they told us in Canada, bad place to mine. We got here and we even had business leaders who said 'Oh don't come here, bad place to mine.'" I said, "Listen to me, why don't we walk over to our Department of Environmental Quality, and I'll introduce you to the people who will actually do the permitting. You can ask them every question that you might have about permitting that mine." So, Murray and I, would you please stand up, stand up please, the President and CEO of RX Exploration, well, they didn't listen to those folks. They said they'd take a gamble on Montana. They went back into that Drumlummon mine, and they cored for about a week and they cored into the Charlie vein. Now, the Charlie vein has been recognized right now by mining engineers all over the world as the richest quartz vein on the planet. The Charlie vein has 12 ounces of gold and 55 ounces of silver per ton. Here's what this means: Every rock that they drag out of the mine before it's processed is worth $8 dollars a pound, and now RX minerals is recognized around the world for developing the Drumlummon mine. Thank you for taking a risk and thank you for employing a hundred and forty Montanans.

John DeMichiei is here. Stand up, John. In May of 2008, I traveled out of state and met a fellow by the name of Wayne Boich. Wayne Boich, his father and uncle, had been in the coal business going back for the last 50 years, mostly in western Virginia and Ohio. Right away, I started telling him about all the great coal deposits we had in Montana, and it wasn't long before I was bragging up that mine that we have, we could start there in Roundup, the Bull Mountain. Well, it got kind of interesting, one thing led to another, and it was just 16 months later, after that first conversation, that they'd invested $500 million dollars in Montana, opened the Signal Peak mine, built the longest spur on the Burlington Northern Santa Fe system in the entire western United States, 35 miles, the longest one built in the last 35, and now they have a capacity to produce a half million tons every single year. Thank you for testing us. Thank you for employing 263 miners in Montana. Thank you to Signal Peak.

Back in 2005, this body decided it was a good idea to put a little money aside, so that we could attract different companies to come here, because a lot of companies say, "I'd come to Montana but, you know, we make widgets and you don't have a single widget here in Montana. We're going to have to train people. Would you help us train those people for those emerging jobs?" It was this body that agreed to put some money aside so we could attract companies, and one of the first companies that we attracted was Don Parkin, stand up Don, Executive Vice President of Avmax. Now, Avmax repairs airplanes and with our job training and their good marketing skills and management they decided Great Falls was a great place to employ a hundred and sixty people. Speaker Milburn, I believe you and I were there, together, when we cut that ribbon. Thank you, Avmax, for choosing Montana.

A billion years ago and a little longer there was an intrusion that rose up from the center of the earth. It was a molten material, and it drove its way within two miles of the surface near Billings, Montana, and then started to cool, and it spread out like the cap of a mushroom for 50 miles all around. Well, that was a billion years ago and, well, frankly, the whole world was a single continent, and we were all under ocean and nobody noticed. But, through time, there were a few changes and about 990 million years later the Beartooths rose up, your backyard there, Jason Priest, and it pushed that Stillwater complex into the mountain. Frank McAllister is here. Why don't you stand up, Frank? Frank McAllister is the CEO of Stillwater Mining Company and in that Stillwater complex, that intrusion, we have the only platinum and palladium mine in the Western Hemisphere. I mentioned to Frank here a little earlier today, he was saying he just got back from Bermuda peddling that palladium and I said, "Well Frank, don't complain, you were working just as hard two years ago when palladium was worth a hundred and eighty dollars an ounce and now it's $785 an ounce, I think you can afford to scoot around just a little bit." Let me tell you something about Frank McAllister and the Stillwater Mine. They employ thirteen hundred and fifty-two Montanans, including 81 new hires, and a few years ago, when some of the neighbors were concerned about this mine and what kind of effluent might come from that mine and when the roads would be built and the kinds of transition lines, it was Frank McAllister that sat down with the community and the environmental community and said, "We want to be a good neighbor." They created the good neighbor policy and if you travel within a 30-mile radius of the Stillwater mine you will find neighbors who say, "We love that mine." Thank you for continuing to mine in Montana. Thank you, Frank McAllister, for being a good neighbor.

When this body passed the renewable portfolio standard in 2005, we knew that we had the best energy resources on the planet. We didn't know which companies would come here. We didn't know a company like Naturener, from Spain, knew about the wind energy of Montana. We didn't know that they would make this kind of investment. Bill Alexander, who is the Chief Development Officer in North America, would you please stand up, Bill? Naturener currently has the largest wind farm in Montana, near Shelby. It's the Glacier Wind Farm with 210 megawatts. They're building an even larger wind farm called Rim Rock with 309 megawatts. This farm, collectively, will be the largest wind farm in the Pacific Northwest. They've employed 1,200 construction workers, 50 full-time employees and they pumped $17 million worth of royalties and taxes into the local community and to the state of Montana. Bill, thanks for believing in Montana. Thank you.

In 1996, a fifth generation ranch kid decided to do some manufacturing in Montana and he, like me, has a love for all things dogs, especially border collies, and so he started making pet toys. And then West Paw Design expanded, then expanded again, and expanded again. And people kept saying to him, "You can't manufacture in Montana, don't manufacture in the United States, take it to Asia, like everybody else." Not Spencer Williams, he's a Montana boy. He said we'll just keep growing here and, today, they sell their pet toys in 3,000 stores in 24 countries, and he employs 41 people in Bozeman. Thank you very much. Stand up, Spencer. Thank you very much. Thank you for your love of animals.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 26, 2011

In 1967, an optimistic Okie started his own little oil company. He drilled and poked around in Oklahoma and Texas and Kansas and went broke and sometimes made money and sometimes made a little bit more money, and things got a little better, and he started a publically traded company called Continental Resources. Harold Hamm, well, he got to thinking about maybe coming up to the Bakken about a dozen years ago and maybe fracking it like he had some shales in some other places. Harold, would you stand up? So, Harold came up to the Bakken and he was one of the early guys and he told me here a little while ago he had it all figured out when he got here. So, he drilled about 9,000 feet deep and did all that horizontal and he fracked it and he put exactly the right kind of sand and water and chemical in it and nothing, nothing, dry hole, $5 million gone. So, naturally, he's from Oklahoma, he did it again, and again, and again, and again, and again, and again, and finally he hit it and Harold Hamm and Continental Resources is the largest oil producer in the Bakken today. He has 853,000 acres leased. Harold Hamm, more than anybody else on the planet, is the man with the key to unlocking the oil in the most important oil deposit in the United States, but there's more to the story.

Four years ago, the oil producers in eastern Montana, western North Dakota contacted me saying, "We're getting twenty and thirty dollar discounts." Harold says, "Why? Because we're actually producing more oil than we can put in the pipelines and we have to ship some of it on the rail and these, well, these pipeline operators, well, sometimes they can be rascals." Who knew? So, we got the Governor of North Dakota and the Governor of Wyoming and a bunch of oil producers together in Billings, we talked about this. And we were able to relieve some of these bottlenecks and we got some more of that oil moving in the existing infrastructure. Price went up for a while, then they started producing more oil and more oil, and then we started getting that squeeze again. So, everybody was real excited when TransCanada announced that they're going to put this huge pipeline in--right, Harold--going all the way up there from northern Alberta right through our oil patch and on down to the markets in Cushing, Oklahoma. Eureka, we're in good shape. Harold and a bunch of the other oil guys started contacting TransCanada saying, "Boy, we'd sure like to sign up on that pipeline." And TransCanada would say, "Well, you know, we got a lot of oil already here in Alberta and we're not so sure that we want to sign five- or ten-year contracts, we want twenty. Tell you what. We'll get back to you." I heard from oil producers all over western North Dakota and eastern Montana, "We'll get back to you." So, last year we had a meeting out there in Bismarck, didn't we, Harold? We sat down and said, "We've got to do something." I promised them I'd do a little shuttle diplomacy, so back and forth between TransCanada and the oil producers, meetings in Billings, more meetings in Billings; the Governor of North Dakota came over too. TransCanada started coming to the meetings, pretty soon they started thinking maybe it'd be a good idea. Of course, it didn't hurt that we sent a letter to the Public Service Commission in Montana and we said to them, "Well, don't you think that this pipeline ought to be considered a common carrier?" And they dusted off their old law books and they sent a letter back and they said, "Yeah, common carrier." That means Harold can put his oil on that pipeline if he wants. We called TransCanada, wasn't long before they were talking and then last week TransCanada announced that they were going to invest a hundred million dollars to build an onramp in Baker and take 65,000 new barrels of oil from eastern Montana and western North Dakota. Harold, thanks for believing in us. Thanks for sticking it out.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 26, 2011

The best path to a higher paying job is a good education. Most states are cutting their funding for education, but our good planning, resilient economy and money in the bank means that we can continue to invest in public education. Members of this legislature, if you choose to cut funding for public education, you do so as a reflection of your values, because we have the money in the bank.

When John and I were running for Governor, we talked to a lot of people, a lot of businesses and they said what we really need to do is reform our higher education system, because of all these new jobs that are coming to Montana. We need to have a system that trains and retrains adults and young people for these emerging jobs. John, remember? We traveled around the state. Well, I'd actually go out to eastern Montana, John kind of handled Billings, and that's what we heard, we went to Plentywood, Scobey. One time, though, after we were elected, I started getting some new information from Linda McCulloch. Then she ganged up with Carol Williams and they came in and they said, "Brian, we understand that you want to invest in higher education and these two-year programs, but don't you know that if you have another penny you ought to invest it earlier?" And then they introduced me to a fellow who'd won a Nobel Prize in economics and he told me if you invest earlier, you'll have better students when they're in eighth grade. And then I met some principals from all around the world who said the same thing, some university presidents who told me the same thing. You know I'm half German, so it took me a while, but I started listening, and these two gals, they were biting on me like dang bulldogs. And then I started noticing and I found that if we started early enough, if we start when a child is five years old, it won't matter whether their parents both are doctors or lawyers and live at the country club or whether their parents didn't even graduate from high school, like mine. If we start early enough, every child can soar to their God-given capabilities and their destiny won't be decided by how much money and how much capability and how much early education their parents can give them at home before they start school. And so, when this Legislative body decided to fund full-day kindergarten for five days for every child in Montana you started to change the world.

When you saw these children come here today, they're very special in my heart. They're third graders. They are the first graduates of Montana's full-time kindergarten and they represent the future. I want to recognize Erica Henshall, their third grade teacher, but I want to embrace Martin Coole who was their kindergarten teacher because there is a special place in heaven for those who teach in kindergarten.

I have some bad news for you. Politicians don't change the world; innovators, ideas, scientists, and engineers change the world. Montana must invest our income today from coal, oil and gas and the energy technologies of the future. We will develop Montana's energy on Montana's terms, not as a colony for our energy hungry country. Montana can lead in breaking our addiction to foreign oil, with our coal and oil and wind and gas and hydroelectricity. Let's build an energy system that's cleaner and greener, that's designed in Montana, by Montana engineers and built by Montana labor. Engineers and skilled labor that are trained at Montana's universities and through our apprenticeship programs.

My proposed budget provides enough money to cap tuition for every college student in Montana

HOUSE JOURNAL

going to a Montana college or university for the next two years. Don't force the burden of a tuition increase on Montana families. A tuition increase is a tax increase. Don't increase taxes on Montana families today. Our university system is the incubator of innovation. Innovators trained in Montana will create the jobs of tomorrow in Montana. Now we have two very special guests. First, I want to recognize the head Grizzly from the University of Montana, Royce Engstrom. Stand up, Royce. All right, you Grizzlies, now for the main event, the President of Montana State University, go Bobcats, Waded Cruzado. Oh, I see all of these Justices, University of Montana Law School, not so much on the Bobcat business.

Montana, we must face our challenges and one of our greatest challenges is the cost of healthcare. The Patient Protection Affordable Care act will double the size of the Montana Medicaid program and double its cost. We must do in Montana what Washington, D.C. won't or can't. We must challenge every expense in healthcare. Stop redundant testing, fewer procedures at lower costs, best management practices to decrease the number of surgeries, more efficient electronic medical records and Montana, it's time that we buy world-class medicine at a world price. That's why we've asked for a waiver from Washington, D.C., because, you see, through the Medicaid program we have a rebate system through these pharmaceutical companies. The pharmaceutical companies don't want you, the consumers, to know that they have a rebate program with the State of Montana and other states across the country where we as Medicaid patients are buying our medicine for about 25 percent of what you pay for it, or what Medicare pays for it, or what the Veterans Administration pays for it, or even your insurance company pays for it. We've asked the folks in Washington, D.C. to allow every Montanan to buy their prescription drugs through our Medicaid program saving the State of Montana $50 million, saving the federal government $150,000 and saving all the rest of you about a $175 million. We think that is smart health care and we think that is Montana health care. I hope you'll support us.

We live in Montana, because we enjoy the outdoors. Our families are drawn closer when we're on the landscape of the Big Sky. We cherish our rights to access public lands. I want to thank Speaker Milburn and Senator Kendall Van Dyk, because they were the two that drew Montana together, who built a coalition around stream access so every family in Montana can enjoy our constitutional rights for accessing streams. Thank you for bringing Montana together.

And I want to recognize Ed Smith. Stand up Ed. He has been elected to this position as Clerk of the Supreme Court for 51 years, or so.

I'm proud of the land purchases made under my administration. More fishing, hunting, camping, hiking, and outdoor recreation for Montana families. It's about families, mothers, fathers, kids and grandparents, fishing, camping, and hiking together.

President Teddy Roosevelt had it right. He said, "The nation behaves well when it treats its natural resources as assets, which must be turned over to the next generation increased and not impaired in value. Conservation means development as much as it means protection."

We will be judged in this body by what we accomplish, not for the speeches delivered, the frayed nerves, the meetings, late nights, early mornings.

Ernest Hemingway said, "Never mistake motion for action."

Now, in honor of my grandfather, Mike McKernan, from County Tyrone, and my grandmother, Hannah Freel from County Donegal, I'd like to leave you with an Irish blessing.

"May you have the hindsight to know where you came from, may you have the foresight to know where you're going and may you have the insight to know when you're going too far."

God bless Montana's families, God bless Montana, and God bless America. Thank you and good evening.

Benediction was given by Monseigneur O'Neill.

President Peterson directed the committee of four to escort the official party and the governor's guests from the Chamber.

Sen. Essmann moved that the joint session be adjourned. Motion carried.

"33-22-508. Conversion on termination of eligibility. (1) A group disability insurance policy or certificate of insurance ~~delivered or issued for delivery or renewed after October 1, 1981,~~ must contain a provision that if the insurance or any portion of the insurance on a person or the person's dependents or family members covered under the policy ceases because of termination of the person's membership in a group eligible for coverage under the policy, because of termination of the person's employment, as a result of a person's employer discontinuing the employer's business, or as a result of a person's employer discontinuing the group disability insurance policy and not providing for any other group disability insurance or plan and if the person had been insured for a period of 3 months and ~~the person~~ is not insured under another major medical disability insurance policy or plan, the person is entitled to have issued to the person by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, group disability coverage or an individual disability policy or, in the absence of an individual disability policy issued by the insurer, a group disability policy issued by the insurer on the person or on the person's dependents or family members if application for the individual policy is made and the first premium tendered to the insurer within 31 days after the termination of the group coverage.

(2) A group insurer may meet the requirements of this section by contracting with another insurer to issue conversion policies as described in subsections (5) and (6). The conversion carrier must be authorized to act as an insurer in this state, and the commissioner shall approve the conversion policies pursuant to 33-1-501.

(3) The individual policy or group policy, at the option of the insured, may be on any form then customarily issued by the insurer to individual or group policyholders, with the exception of a policy the eligibility for which is determined by affiliation other than by employment with a common entity. In addition, the insurer or conversion carrier shall make available a conversion policy as required by subsection (6).

(4) The premium for the individual policy or group policy must be at no more than 200% of the insurer's customary rate applicable to the group policy being terminated at the time of the conversion. If the person entitled to conversion under this section has been insured for more than 3 years, the premium may not be more than 150% of the customary rate of the policy being terminated at the time of the conversion. The customary rate is that rate that is normally issued for medically underwritten policies without discount for healthy lifestyles.

(5) A conversion carrier shall offer an individual or group conversion policy that provides the same schedule of benefits and covers the same eligible expenses as those being terminated. The premium for the policy must be calculated as described in subsection (4).

(6) The insurer or conversion carrier shall also make available a conversion policy, certificate, or membership contract that provides at least the level of benefits provided by the insurer's lowest cost basic health benefit plan, as defined in 33-22-1803. ~~If the insurer or conversion carrier is not a small employer carrier under part 18, the insurer shall make available a conversion policy, certificate, or membership contract that provides equivalent benefits to a basic health benefit plan as provided in 33-22-1827.~~ The conversion rate may not exceed 150% of the highest rate charged for that plan. This subsection does not apply to disability plans that provide only excepted benefits as defined in 33-22-140.

(7) The effective date and time of the conversion policy must be established to ensure that there is no break in coverage between the termination of the group policy coverage and the inception of the conversion policy."

Insert: "Section 11. Section 33-22-1803, MCA, is amended to read:

"33-22-1803. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Actuarial certification" means a written statement by a member of the American academy of actuaries or other individual acceptable to the commissioner that a small employer carrier is in compliance with the provisions of 33-22-1809, based upon the person's examination, including a review of the appropriate records and of the actuarial assumptions and methods used by the small employer carrier in establishing premium rates for applicable health benefit plans.

(2) "Affiliate" or "affiliated" means any entity or person who directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with a specified entity or person.

(3) "Assessable carrier" means all carriers of disability insurance, including excess of loss and stop loss disability insurance.

(4) "Base premium rate" means, for each class of business as to a rating period, the lowest premium rate charged or that could have been charged under the rating system for that class of business by the small employer carrier to small employers with similar case characteristics for health benefit plans with the same or similar coverage.

(5) "Basic health benefit plan" means a health benefit plan, except a uniform health benefit plan, developed by a small employer carrier, that has a lower benefit value than the small employer carrier's standard benefit plan ~~and that provides the benefits required by 33-22-1827.~~

(6) "Benefit value" means a numerical value based on the expected dollar value of benefits payable to an insured under a health benefit plan. The benefit value must be calculated by the small employer carrier using an actuarially based method and must take into account all health care expenses covered by the health benefit plan and all cost-sharing features of the health benefit plan, including deductibles, coinsurance, copayments, and the insured individual's maximum out-of-pocket expenses. The benefit value must apply equally to indemnity-type health benefit plans and to managed care health benefit plans, including health maintenance organization-type plans.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 27, 2011

- (7) "Bona fide association" means an association that:
- (a) has been actively in existence for at least 5 years;
 - (b) was formed and has been maintained in good faith for purposes other than obtaining insurance;
 - (c) does not condition membership in the association on a health status-related factor relating to an individual, including an employee of an employer or a dependent of an employee;
 - (d) makes health insurance coverage offered through the association available to a member regardless of a health status-related factor relating to the member or an individual eligible for coverage through a member; and
 - (e) does not make health insurance coverage offered through the association available other than in connection with a member of the association.
- (8) "Carrier" means any person who provides a health benefit plan in this state subject to state insurance regulation. The term includes but is not limited to an insurance company, a fraternal benefit society, a health service corporation, and a health maintenance organization. For purposes of this part, companies that are affiliated companies or that are eligible to file a consolidated tax return must be treated as one carrier, except that the following may be considered as separate carriers:
- (a) an insurance company or health service corporation that is an affiliate of a health maintenance organization located in this state;
 - (b) a health maintenance organization located in this state that is an affiliate of an insurance company or health service corporation; or
 - (c) a health maintenance organization that operates only one health maintenance organization in an established geographic service area of this state.
- (9) "Case characteristics" means demographic or other objective characteristics of a small employer that are considered by the small employer carrier in the determination of premium rates for the small employer, provided that gender, claims experience, health status, and duration of coverage are not case characteristics for purposes of this part.
- (10) "Class of business" means all or a separate grouping of small employers established pursuant to 33-22-1808.
- (11) "Dependent" means:
- (a) a spouse;
 - (b) an unmarried child under 25 years of age:
 - (i) who is not an employee eligible for coverage under a group health plan offered by the child's employer for which the child's premium contribution amount is no greater than the premium amount for coverage as a dependent under a parent's individual or group health plan;
 - (ii) who is not a named subscriber, insured, enrollee, or covered individual under any other individual health insurance coverage, group health plan, government plan, church plan, or group health insurance;
 - (iii) who is not entitled to benefits under 42 U.S.C. 1395, et seq.; and
 - (iv) for whom the parent has requested coverage;
 - (c) a child of any age who is disabled and dependent upon the parent as provided in 33-22-506 and 33-30-1003; or
 - (d) any other individual defined as a dependent in the health benefit plan covering the employee.
- (12) (a) "Eligible employee" means an employee who works on a full-time basis with a normal workweek of 30 hours or more, except that at the sole discretion of the employer, the term

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 27, 2011

may include an employee who works on a full-time basis with a normal workweek of between 20 and 40 hours as long as this eligibility criteria is applied uniformly among all of the employer's employees. The term includes a sole proprietor, a partner of a partnership, and an independent contractor if the sole proprietor, partner, or independent contractor is included as an employee under a health benefit plan of a small employer. The term also includes those persons eligible for coverage under 2-18-704.

(b) The term does not include an employee who works on a part-time, temporary, or substitute basis.

(13) "Established geographic service area" means a geographic area, as approved by the commissioner and based on the carrier's certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state, within which the carrier is authorized to provide coverage.

(14) (a) "Health benefit plan" means any hospital or medical policy or certificate providing for physical and mental health care issued by an insurance company, a fraternal benefit society, or a health service corporation or issued under a health maintenance organization subscriber contract.

(b) The term does not include coverage of excepted benefits, as defined in 33-22-140, if coverage is provided under a separate policy, certificate, or contract of insurance.

(15) "Index rate" means, for each class of business for a rating period for small employers with similar case characteristics, the average of the applicable base premium rate and the corresponding highest premium rate.

(16) "New business premium rate" means, for each class of business for a rating period, the lowest premium rate charged or offered or that could have been charged or offered by the small employer carrier to small employers with similar case characteristics for newly issued health benefit plans with the same or similar coverage.

(17) "Premium" means all money paid by a small employer and eligible employees as a condition of receiving coverage from a small employer carrier, including any fees or other contributions associated with the health benefit plan.

(18) "Rating period" means the calendar period for which premium rates established by a small employer carrier are assumed to be in effect.

(19) "Restricted network provision" means a provision of a health benefit plan that conditions the payment of benefits, in whole or in part, on the use of health care providers that have entered into a contractual arrangement with the carrier pursuant to Title 33, chapter 22, part 17, or Title 33, chapter 31, to provide health care services to covered individuals.

(20) "Small employer" means a person, firm, corporation, partnership, or bona fide association that is actively engaged in business and that, with respect to a calendar year and a plan year, employed at least two but not more than 50 eligible employees during the preceding calendar year and employed at least two employees on the first day of the plan year. In the case of an employer that was not in existence throughout the preceding calendar year, the determination of whether the employer is a small or large employer must be based on the average number of employees reasonably expected to be employed by the employer in the current calendar year. In determining the number of eligible employees, companies are considered one employer if they:

(a) are affiliated companies;

(b) are eligible to file a combined tax return for purposes of state taxation; or

(c) are members of a bona fide association.

(21) "Small employer carrier" means a carrier that offers health benefit plans that cover eligible employees of one or more small employers in this state.

Senator Essmann moved that President Peterson be authorized to appoint a committee of four to notify Senator Baucus that the body is in joint session and ready to receive his address. Motion carried.

President Peterson appointed Senators Tutvedt and Gillan, and Representatives Burnett and Sands to escort Senator Baucus into the House Chamber.

Sergeant-at -Arms Clark announced that the Honorable, Senator Max Baucus, awaits entrance to the House.

The committee escorted Senator Baucus into the chambers.

President Peterson introduced Senator Baucus to the joint session.

Senator Baucus gave the following remarks:

Good afternoon, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Members of the House and Senate, those of you joining us in the gallery, distinguished guests:

It's good to be back here with you all. I have fond memories of this chamber and of the work we accomplished. I always like to see who's sitting in my old desk. Today, it's Matt Rosendale from Glendive.

Matt, congratulations on your victory, welcome to the Montana Legislature, and thank you for your service.

There are a lot of new names and faces around here, and I want to congratulate you all.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 28, 2011

I'm glad to hear that the Representative James Knox is healing up and doing better. I want to wish him a speedy recovery.

I want to say a special hello to Carol Williams, who was the first woman elected as Senate Majority Leader in this state's history. And I'd like to tip my hat to Senator Kim Gillan, Senate Minority Whip. Carol and Kim, I know you are serving your last terms in the Senate and I want to thank you for your tremendous service and leadership in so many capacities and, of course, for your friendship.

And a special recognition to my mother, who I know is at home thinking of me right now.

Let's also take a moment to remember everyone who has served our great state here in the Legislature and all of our old friends who aren't with us today.

I'd also like to remember our fallen heroes, who lost their lives serving their country.

And please, let's take a moment of silence to recognize an amazing young man, Trooper David DeLaittre of Three Forks, who gave the ultimate sacrifice serving the people of Montana: keeping us all safe. Let's bow our heads.

David was shot and killed in the line of duty during a routine traffic stop.

Just think of it: He was only 23 years old, and for much of his life, his only dream was to be a Montana Highway Patrolman like his father.

Every day that he went to work, he assumed the risk that comes with protecting each of us.

I want to thank you, Senator Wittich, for your bill to create the David DeLaittre Memorial Highway on the four-mile sections of U.S. Highway 287 through Three Forks. There's nothing we can give to David, or to his family, that will come close to what he sacrificed. But David is a hero to all of us, and we'll never forget him.

The next time we see a highway patrolman or a police officer, let's take a few seconds to thank them for what they do. They don't hear it enough.

I want to start today by telling you a story about eight extraordinary Montanans who set an inspiring example. It reminds me how when we join forces we can overcome difficulty and do what's right.

Two years ago, the community of Glasgow united as result of an unthinkable tragedy.

A man fatally shot Melissa Greenhagen, mother of three and part-time emergency medical technician. When Scott Billingsly and his wife Suzanne, a nurse, ran to help her, the gunman shot and wounded both of them!

That night, the Glasgow community rose to the higher cause. The reservation police force, the

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 28, 2011

Sheriffs's office, and the highway patrol all worked together to track down the sniper who fatally shot Melissa and wounded Scott and Suzanne.

And because of their unwavering commitment to keep the folks in their community safe, the President of the United States personally awarded eight of these men and women—known now as the Elite Eight—one of the nation's highest law enforcement honors: Something known as the Top Cops Award. I was at the White House that day, and let me tell you, I was so darned proud.

These people are incredible. They answered the call of duty, without fearing for their own safety. They just did what they needed to do.

We are all public servants who owe the same dedication to the people of Montana. It's our obligation to look each other in the eye, join forces, and do the very best we can to make life better for the people who serve.

We need to talk about our very biggest priority: Jobs! Montanans need our commitment to putting jobs first, everyday, as you work here in the legislature and I work in the Senate.

There's an old saying: "When the guy in Havre's out of work, it's an economic slowdown. When your brother-in-law's out of work, it's a recession. When you're out of work, it's a depression."

It doesn't matter what you call it, we are emerging from the greatest economic decline in 80 years. Companies that have been the backbone of America's economy have cut jobs in record numbers.

But think for a moment about a friend of yours, one of your family members, or a neighbor who lost their job. Think about how hard it must be, knowing you just cashed your last paycheck—with a family at home depending on you.

It's our job to help businesses change that. Montana is strong, and we have so much to be proud of. But we can do even better. We must continue to do all we can to help build a stronger economy. And we need to keep making education a priority—because today's students are tomorrow's innovators and business leaders. Our kids are going to lead us into the future. We want them well prepared.

As often as I can, I spend a day working at a Montana business.

I've had some great days driving trucks, paving roads, building houses—even building guns up in the Flathead. Last week I was in Hamilton serving lunch, making coffee and scrubbing tables at the River Rising bakery and deli. It's so rewarding working alongside Montanans.

We Montanans work hard. Montanans get a job done and we do it right the first time. It's in our nature. It's what we were born and bred to do.

When I go back to Washington, it's those hard-working Montanans who inspire me. I see their faces and I remember their stories. For them, I make a promise to myself every day. I say,

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 28, 2011

“Max, do the best job you can, and remember who you serve.”

It’s because of them that I work every day to help our small businesses get the tools they need to grow and thrive. Montana’s a small business state—and if our small businesses succeed, that means our economy is moving in the right direction. It means more good-paying jobs for hard-working folks.

We passed bills in the Senate to do just that: to cut taxes and help small businesses create jobs. We did that with my Small Business Jobs Act, which is already giving some gas to the engines that will make our economy stronger and more vibrant.

The bill includes $12 billion in tax cuts for small businesses. It helps businesses increase cash flow and get access to loans they need to grow.

Take Brown’s Automotive in Billings. Brown’s does transmission repairs that require big investments in equipment, like lifts and scanners. When business is slow, buying heavy equipment can put a major strain on cash flow.

Because of the Small Business Jobs Act, Brown’s can now write off a portion of their new equipment costs. That helps them maintain their cash flow. It also encourages them to make more investments.

We also passed the HIRE Act, which will create 5.6 million new jobs—many right here in Montana—by cutting payroll taxes for Montana businesses that hire new workers.

We passed the bipartisan tax cut compromise, which kept tax cuts for ALL Montanans and provides estate tax relief that works for Montana ranchers and farmers.

We held our 5th Economic Development Summit in Butte last September. The summit brought business leaders from across the country together with Montana entrepreneurs to create jobs.

Thanks to the summit, a home-grown, Butte family company called Seacast is partnering with GE to build high-tech parts for jet engines at its new Butte facility. That’s more Montana jobs.

It’s just one example of real results from the Summit. It’s also an example of how research and innovation, and the ability to sell to markets worldwide, are key to the future of the American economy.

When Warren Buffett kicked off the summit, he said “I am a huge bull on this country. We will not have a double-dip recession at all. I see our businesses coming back almost across the board.”

Warren’s a smart guy. And that’s the attitude we need when we think about moving Montana forward.

There are great things happening in Montana. Thirteen years ago, right here in Helena, Tom

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 28, 2011

Hoffman, an entrepreneur with nothing but big dreams, started a little company called Summit Aeronautics. Before he sold his business to Boeing this past December, he had 100 employees. Now that's Montana innovation. That's Montana drive. Because Montana can compete.

Now that we're all here today in the same chamber, it's my chance to look all of you in the eye and talk about something that's on all of our minds.

See, I thought I'd take a break. You know, get away from it all. Escape the big health care debate in Washington.

So I came home to spend a little more time with you all.

In all seriousness, I know there are a lot of strong feelings in this room about health care. And I feel pretty strongly that we can work together to improve this bill. To make it fit just right for Montana.

Look at the 1099 reporting provision. Small business owners and folks across the state said it would make their lives harder—and as a result, I introduced an amendment to get rid of that provision. We'll get it fixed, because it's the right thing to do.

We need to give the health care law a chance to work.

Last year the cost of paying for folks without health insurance in Montana totaled $220 million. That means every Montana family with insurance had to pay an additional $2,100 on their premiums to cover the cost. That's money out of Montanans' pockets. That's just unacceptable.

Independent, nonpartisan economists have determined that repealing the health care law would add more than $1 trillion to our debt over the next 20 years and take away $460 billion in tax cuts for middle class folks, families and small businesses.

And the health care law is already helping Montanans.

Twenty-six thousand Montana small businesses already qualify for tax cuts on the tax returns they're filing right now. And the health care law enables folks to find quality health insurance they can actually afford.

Parents can now keep their kids on their health insurance up to age 26, which means a lot for college grads struggling to find work in today's economy. And about 8,000 Montana seniors on Medicare are getting much needed help to cover the cost of expensive prescription drugs.

Insurance companies can no longer deny coverage to children who are sick, and eventually every Montanan will have this same protection. That means peace of mind for more than 426,000 Montanans with pre-existing conditions. That means parents like David Hutchins in Missoula can sleep easier at night.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 28, 2011

David's young son Elijah has leukemia and Down syndrome. Before the health care law, he couldn't get coverage under private insurance. Luckily, Elijah qualifies for Medicaid because his dad only works part-time while attending school. But if David's income were to increase, Elijah would lose coverage.

The day this protection kicked in, David said: "By requiring health insurance companies to do the right thing and guarantee coverage for kids like my son, the new health care law has lifted a huge burden from my family."

This law is about lowering costs, improving choice and putting patients back in control. It'll reduce our deficit. It'll make the entire health care system stronger.

Let's rise above the rhetoric, look at the challenges on both sides and imperfections before us, and move forward together.

Look at some of the other challenges we face. Take the North Fork. We returned more than 80 percent of leased acreage up there. And we did it at no cost to taxpayers.

Because this land, it's ours—and it's our job to make sure our children, grandchildren, and their children get to see it, and truly love it the way we do.

We're working to put wolves back under Montana's control, because Montanans—not Washington bureaucrats—know best how to manage wolves. We need to come up with a solution that works for us.

I'm working to pass a program called the Freedom Fuels Act, which will use Montana-grown camelina and Montana coal to help us become less dependent on foreign oil and create jobs in our state.

So many of the commodities that people all over the world use come from Montana. Coal, oil and gas. And it isn't just energy.

Our Ag community really drives this economy. Our wheat, our livestock. Our hard-working farmers and ranchers.

This spring I'm going to hold listening sessions around the state to gather ideas as we write the next Farm Bill. As the only member of Montana's delegation on an Ag Committee, I'm going to make sure our producers get a fair shake.

We truly have it all here.

The Montana wind blowing across the plains, which was once a scourge to our ancestors, now holds great potential for our future.

That's why I made sure the tax cuts we passed last year included a provision to provide

HOUSE JOURNAL

renewable energy companies with money up-front to cover 30 percent of the costs of renewable power facilities, like wind farms and solar projects.

We have wind, we have the potential—now we need the infrastructure to export it. Last October I went to Shelby to celebrate the construction of the MATL transmission line. This line will be the first to connect electricity from Montana into Alberta and beyond. It's a new chapter in creating good-paying jobs and securing our energy future.

The next time the wind in Great Falls, Judith Gap or Livingston nearly blows us over, maybe we'll smile, knowing Montana ingenuity has transformed a nuisance into a life-giving resource.

We have an abundance of another very different, very unique asset. Our service members and veterans are, and have always been, bright stars in this state. One in ten Montanans is a vet.

Just think about that. We have over 100,000 vets in Montana. I'm so proud of these men and women, and I will never, ever stop working in their best interest.

I put together something called the VETs Jobs Act, which will help more of our vets get good-paying jobs when they come home from serving abroad. I know we can agree that taking care of these men and women who have sacrificed for our country isn't just the right thing to do; it's the only thing to do.

There's a lot more work to get done. And we're just getting started. But we can't do it all alone.

We live up to the example of our veterans when we act civilly toward each other. I've been in Washington long enough to know the environment hasn't been this toxic in a generation. I'm not talking about disagreeing about policy, or even politics.

Unless you've been lucky enough to avoid cable TV for the last few years, you know what I'm talking about. Name-calling, cheap shots, personal attacks. On both ends of the spectrum we don't do that in Montana. We just don't wear it well. It's not our style.

Senate President Jim Peterson's got it right. It makes more sense, and it's just plain simpler, to live by the code of the West.

Because in Montana, we may disagree here in this Chamber during the day, but in the evening we still sit down together and laugh about it over a beer...Just don't tell the Governor.

I've seen both parties control the U.S. Senate plenty of times. And here's what I've learned: not a lick of work gets done until we decide to work together, regardless of who's in charge.

A lot of folks have made this point over the years and they're right.

Helen Keller once said: "Alone we can do little; together we can do so much."

And my mentor and friend Mike Mansfield said:

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATIVE DAY - JANUARY 28, 2011

“We’ll have to set examples for those who will follow us, and recognize that we don’t know it all. So we should listen to the other person. And that other person sometimes is right, sometimes we are wrong. It will be a matter of accommodation and compromise, knowledge and understanding.”

These were Mike’s words of advice in November 1989, to a group of wide-eyed young people as they looked ahead to bright futures, wondering who they’d become and how they would change the world.

But his words couldn’t be more true to all of us here today—grown men and women charged with a momentous task. For us, it is not an option to simply look ahead to a bright future for Montana—we must create it. We will build it, and we will do it together.

It won’t be easy, but in Montana, “can’t” isn’t in our vocabulary.

It has been a great honor to speak to you today. It’s also a great honor to speak in the shadow of Charlie Russell’s largest painting, which will be celebrating its 100th birthday next year.

I’d like to leave you some of C.M. Russell’s words that never fail to remind me how blessed we are to be Montanan. He said:

“Guard, protect and cherish your land, for there is no afterlife for a place that started out as heaven.”

As we look forward, I remind you that in your hands, more than in mine, rests the future of our state. Be wise. Be prudent. Serve those who have entrusted you. We are so lucky! Together, we can make Montana an even better place than it is today.

Thank you.

President Peterson directed the committee of four to escort Senator Baucus from the joint session.

Senator Essmann moved that the joint session of the 62nd Legislature be adjourned. Motion carried.

"13-2-301. Close of regular registration -- notice -- changes. (1) The election administrator shall:

(a) close regular registrations for 30 days before any election; and

(b) publish a notice specifying the day regular registrations will close and the availability of the late registration option provided for in 13-2-304 in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least three times in the 4 weeks preceding the close of registration or broadcast a notice on radio or television as provided in 2-3-105 through 2-3-107, using the method the election administrator believes is best suited to reach the largest number of potential electors. The provisions of this subsection (1)(b) are fulfilled upon the third publication or broadcast of the notice.

(2) Information to be included in the notice must be prescribed by the secretary of state.

(3) An application for voter registration properly executed and postmarked on or before the day regular registration is closed must be accepted as a regular registration for 3 days after regular registration is closed under subsection (1)(a).

(4) An individual who submits a completed registration form to the election administrator before the deadlines provided in this section is allowed to correct a mistake on the completed registration form until 5 p.m. on the 10th day following the close of regular registration, and the qualified elector is then eligible to vote in the election.

(5) An elector who misses the deadlines provided for in this section may register to vote or change the elector's voter information and vote in the election, ~~except as otherwise~~ only as provided in 13-2-304."

Insert: "Section 2. Section 13-2-304, MCA, is amended to read:

"13-2-304. Late registration -- late changes -- nonapplicability for school elections.

(1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3), the following provisions apply:

(a) An elector may register or change the elector's voter registration information after the close of regular registration in 13-2-301 and vote in the election if the election administrator in the county where the elector resides receives and verifies the elector's voter registration information prior to ~~the close of the polls on election day.~~

~~_____~~ (b) ~~Late registration is closed from noon to 5 p.m. on the day Friday~~ before the election.

(c) Except as provided in 13-2-514(2)(a), an elector who registers or changes the elector's voter information pursuant to this section may vote in the election only if the elector obtains the ballot from and returns it to the location designated by the county election administrator.

(2) If an elector has already been sent an absentee ballot for the election, the elector may change the elector's voter registration information only with respect to the next election.

(3) The provisions of subsection (1) do not apply with respect to an elector's registration to vote in a school election held pursuant to Title 20."

And, as amended, do pass. Report adopted.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

February 1, 2011

The Honorable Mike Milburn, Speaker of the House
The Honorable Jim Peterson, President of the Senate
State Capitol
Helena, MT 59601

Dear Speaker Milburn and President Peterson:

In accordance with the rules of your respective chambers, please consider this letter a Message from the Governor regarding House Bill No.1 ("HB 1"), otherwise known as the "feed bill."

Yesterday, I signed HB 1 into law. HB 1 appropriates money from the general fund for the operation of the current Legislature, to which I have no objection. However, HB 1 also appropriates money for ongoing legislative expenses over the next biennium, including funding initial costs for the next Legislature.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-FIFTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 1, 2011

Because we are here to put the people first, not ourselves, I considered an amendatory veto and also considered letting the bill become law without my signature. However, either option would have delayed passage of the feed bill, and I have been informed that the Legislature has "run up against the clock" and is without money to pay its staff should HB 1 not go into law before tomorrow. In order that legislative staff could be paid and the Legislature not come to a grinding halt tomorrow, I decided not to pursue an amendatory veto or "pocket signing" of the bill. However, I wanted you to know of my objections.

I find it ironic that the Legislature has used the feed bill to fund itself in the 2013 biennium, while simultaneously cutting critical services for Montanans. Today, the State of Montana has $376 million in the bank. Yet in the last few days, the Joint Subcommittees voted to eliminate or reduce critical programs for Montana citizens. HB 1 --the first bill and the first appropriations bill to be delivered to me for signature -has put the Legislature ahead of the people of Montana for the next biennium.

As you know, the budget I presented to you is balanced. It not only puts jobs and people first, it sets aside $238 million for an ending fund balance. HB 1 is the first bill to spend the revenues anticipated to be available for the 2013 biennium. I take it as a sign from the 2011 Legislature that when it decided to fund itself first, it did so as a sign that revenues are increasing and jobs and important services for Montanans will not be left behind.

 - (c) acts as a facilitator among participants who have financial or medical needs and matches those participants with other participants who have the ability to assist those with financial or medical needs in accordance with criteria established by the health care sharing ministry;
 - (d) provides for the financial or medical needs of a participant through contributions from one participant to another; and
 - (e) provides monetary amounts that participants may contribute with no assumption of risk or promise to pay among the participants and no assumption of risk or promise to pay by the health care sharing ministry to the participants.
- (2) A health care sharing ministry shall:
- (a) provide a written monthly statement to all participants that lists the total dollar amount of qualified needs submitted to the health care sharing ministry, as well as the amount actually published or assigned to participants for their contribution; and
 - (b) conduct an annual audit that is performed by an independent certified public accounting firm in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and that is made available to the public upon request.
- (3) (a) A health care sharing ministry shall provide the written disclaimer provided for in subsection (3)(b) on all applications or distribute the disclaimer with any guideline materials distributed by or on behalf of the ministry.
- (b) The written disclaimer must read as follows: "Notice: The organization facilitating the sharing of medical expenses is not an insurance company and its guidelines and plan of operation are not an insurance policy. Participation in the organization or a subscription to any of its documents should never be considered to be insurance. Whether anyone chooses to Insert: "Section 2. Section 33-1-102, MCA, is amended to read:

"33-1-102. Compliance required -- exceptions -- health service corporations -- health maintenance organizations -- governmental insurance programs -- service contracts. (1) A person may not transact a business of insurance in Montana or a business relative to a subject resident, located, or to be performed in Montana without complying with the applicable provisions of this code.

(2) The provisions of this code do not apply with respect to:

(a) domestic farm mutual insurers as identified in chapter 4, except as stated in chapter 4;

(b) domestic benevolent associations as identified in chapter 6, except as stated in chapter 6; ~~and~~

(c) fraternal benefit societies, except as stated in chapter 7; and

(d) health care sharing ministries as provided for in [section 1].

(3) This code applies to health service corporations as prescribed in 33-30-102. The existence of the corporations is governed by Title 35, chapter 2, and related sections of the Montana Code Annotated.

(4) This code does not apply to health maintenance organizations or to managed care community networks, as defined in 53-6-702, to the extent that the existence and operations of those organizations are governed by chapter 31 or to the extent that the existence and operations of those networks are governed by Title 53, chapter 6, part 7. The department of public health and human services is responsible to protect the interests of consumers by providing complaint, appeal, and grievance procedures relating to managed care community networks and health maintenance organizations under contract to provide services under Title 53, chapter 6.

(5) This code does not apply to workers' compensation insurance programs provided for in Title 39, chapter 71, parts 21 and 23, and related sections.

(6) The department of public health and human services may limit the amount, scope, and duration of services for programs established under Title 53 that are provided under contract by entities subject to this title. The department of public health and human services may establish more restrictive eligibility requirements and fewer services than may be required by this title.

(7) Except as otherwise provided in Title 33, chapter 22, this code does not apply to the state employee group insurance program established in Title 2, chapter 18, part 8.

(8) This code does not apply to insurance funded through the state self-insurance reserve fund provided for in 2-9-202.

(9) (a) Except as otherwise provided in Title 33, chapter 22, this code does not apply to any arrangement, plan, or interlocal agreement between political subdivisions of this state in which the political subdivisions undertake to separately or jointly indemnify one another by way of a pooling, joint retention, deductible, or self-insurance plan.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in Title 33, chapter 22, this code does not apply to any arrangement, plan, or interlocal agreement between political subdivisions of this state or any arrangement, plan, or program of a single political subdivision of this state in which the political subdivision provides to its officers, elected officials, or employees disability insurance or life insurance through a self-funded program.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SIXTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 2, 2011

(10) (a) This code does not apply to the marketing of, sale of, offering for sale of, issuance of, making of, proposal to make, and administration of a service contract.

(b) A "service contract" means a contract or agreement for a separately stated consideration for a specific duration to perform the repair, replacement, or maintenance of property or to indemnify for the repair, replacement, or maintenance of property if an operational or structural failure is due to a defect in materials or manufacturing or to normal wear and tear, with or without an additional provision for incidental payment or indemnity under limited circumstances, including but not limited to towing, rental, and emergency road service. A service contract may provide for the repair, replacement, or maintenance of property for damage resulting from power surges or accidental damage from handling. A service contract does not include motor club service as defined in 61-12-301.

(11) (a) Subject to 33-18-201 and 33-18-242, this code does not apply to insurance for ambulance services sold by a county, city, or town or to insurance sold by a third party if the county, city, or town is liable for the financial risk under the contract with the third party as provided in 7-34-103.

(b) If the financial risk for ambulance service insurance is with an entity other than the county, city, or town, the entity is subject to the provisions of this code.""

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 3, 2011

Chairman Willie Sharp Jr., gave the following address:

Ho kaa hii - ho kaa hii Campcrier signal) Oki! Sa Nee Dah Ne Koo: Mii Staa ke Kyi-yo (Mountain Bear) and Holy Ground Walker, (testimonial of Indian name acquisition: I was given Mountain Bear by adopted father Mr. Bruce Wolf Childo Blood Elder and I received my baby name Holy Ground Walker from Cree Spiritual Leader John Good Runner.

I extend greetings to the people of the great state of Montana, leaders of the 62nd Legislature, members of the press and media, distinguished tribal leaders and officials of our tribal nations and to the friends of Indian country.

I want to welcome you to the original territory of the Blackfeet Confederacy. I would like to explain the composition of the Blackfoot Confederacy (Situating in Alberta Canada: Siksika-Northern Blackfoot Tribe/Band, Kainai-Blood Band, Southern Piegan-Piikuni, and USA: Amskapii Piikuni-Blackfeet). Since the time that Governor Schweitzer was elected to lead Montana as governor, Tribal Leaders from their respective reservation homelands have had the pleasure to come and render an address. This honorable opportunity provides a means to give insight and information that serves as a nexus between Tribal Nations and to the Montana Congress that highlights Indian successes and progress. It serves as a format to illustrate and plot a course that each respective Tribal Nation envisions as they move forward toward the many challenges that exist today. I am deeply honored to be here today and presenting this message to you and conveying pertinent information about Tribal Nations. I feel that this message is very significant in the fact that all of you here today are able to hear and be partakers of this historic message between Montana and Tribal Nations relations.

I am Willie A. Sharp, Jr., of the Amskapii Piikuni, in 2009; I and other heads of the respective Tribes of the Blackfoot Confederacy were confirmed as Chiefs in the historical grounds of Glacier National Park at St. Mary. More commonly I am known as the Chairman of the Blackfeet Tribe. I currently am serving my second two-year term as Chairman. I am a member of the Montana Wyoming Tribal Leaders Council and have previously served on the National Congress of American Indians as the Rocky Mountain region vice chairman under President Joe Garcia. I might add that the Indian and Eskimo Nations of America now have their own Embassy located in Washington DC promoting Indian issues and lobbying for a better life for all Indian and Eskimo people. I am proud to announce that a fellow Blackfeet leader helped to forge and establish the foundations of the National Congress of American Indians. Please acknowledge Mr. Walter "Blackie" Wetzal whose Indian name is "Flying Eagle."

Before I bring you the message of shaping the Frontiers in Indian Country, I want to acknowledge my wife of 36 years, my First lady, Mrs. Denise Bear Medicine Sharp: we have three children, Arlen, Willeena, and Billy Dee and four grandchildren. My mother is here today, Leona Fish Wolf Robe Sharp, whose grandfather was born near this valley, and her grandmother and mine lived and was buried in this very valley. Also, I would like to mention my mother-in-law, Mrs. Thelma White Grass Bear Medicine. The honor drum group here today is named Young Grey Horse. Members of this group are: my son Arlen Sharp-Leader, nephews Durand Bear Medicine, Galen Sharp, Austin Bear Medicine. A point of interest I might add, this group is a result of our youth undertaking and continuing the ways and culture of our Indian people. Today they sang the "Grand Entry and Flag Songs," and are an international renowned drum group that earned them a Grammy nomination. The popularity of American Indian music earned its own separate category in the annual competition known as the Native American Music Awards or Nammy's. Please help me to honor these fine young gentlemen. I would like to recognize my fellow Blackfeet Tribal Council members and any other Tribal Council members from the other Tribal Nations who are here in support of this address please stand and be recognized. Also in attendance from the Piikuni Nation, please welcome Chief Reggie Crowshoe from Brocket, Alberta, Canada. Thank you.

Today's Tribal Leaders across Montana are the designated Leaders within their respective reservation land and are charged with the task of leading and helping to shape the course of their people's livelihood. The hopes and dreams of our people and newer generations each look upon the course that is sought and conveyed to by the efforts of our Tribal Leaders 2011, State Of Tribal Nations Address and through the support to realize the paths. Many difficult challenges arise or spring from the paths or courses along the way presenting themselves as adversaries to the goals of those Tribal Leaders. I and many other Indian people are here today as a result of the generations and generations of our ancestors who've faced a challenging world in their times. Today the course of many Tribal Leaders is one to shape and bring about results that will endure and provide for the Indian people today. It is possible for me to be here because I, too, am a direct descendent of many of my ancestors who made it possible. We, too, realize that in this complex world there exists many challenges and uncertainty that we must endure and overcome to achieve success.

Our paths as Indian Nations were forged with the ingenuity and perseverance that helped to make each Nation unique as a people; our paths were filled with pride and integrity. Our modern day survival is dependent upon many facets that confront our quest towards the achievement of new frontiers on many fronts. Our commonalities are similar, yet each Indian Nation differs in respect to their own cultures, languages, traditions and history. I can say that as Tribal Leaders we must consider our stature, sovereignty, and character respectively. We must also consider the tasks to bring each of our Nations back to a vibrancy state. The aspiration and dreams that we envision can be dependent on each of us connected and bound together to collectively shape and achieve the quest. We must look upon each other not as separate entities labeled as Republicans, Democrats, Independents, Liberals, Conservatives; or distinguished by coloration of brown, white, red, yellow, black. I say, together we can work and strive for economic sovereignty for each of our nations, we can together work to improve and enhance the quality of life for our nations, and allow for social independency among our nations. I say again, that our nations are willing and empowered to regain their ownership of the unique environments that made each of us such powerful contenders. Our regained stewardship will ensure that our lands and resources serve and provide for our next generation of children and their children, and ultimately will be part of the new frontier that our Tribal Leaders strive for.

Together no matter whom we are time marches on in the new millennia, and as Indian Nations it is evident that we will need to evoke the processes and paradigms of tribal governments, economic sovereignty, higher order learning, education opportunities, health and natural resources. We can together in a strategic fashion bear upon these areas to help assist each of our quests to impact our economic, social and political challenges. We invite you, leaders of this Congress as partners. As I stand before each of you here today, our world exists in an extraordinary time. No longer are we in such a remote corner of the world. Through technology and modern means, our Montana and its citizens are in touch with the entire world at the touch of a tab or click of a mouse. Montana's Indian Nations have emerged and are in tune with the global structure and how we are impacted by this modern innovation of growth. Indian Nations have emerged as a strong and growing group of people in terms of population growth, they are considered the fastest growing segment of people and expected to continue to grow. For example, along the Hi-line area from the Rocky Mountains east to the eastern border of Montana, cities and towns are experiencing an exodus of people leaving these areas, yet not so in Indian communities. Despite the many past federal and state policies, we as Indian people have emerged as survivors against those policies meant to diminish or result in our destruction; still we are surviving and experiencing growth in our populations. I might point out in the 2009 U.S. Census Bureau it was reported that the Native American population was fixed at 62,873 which makes up for 6.45 of the state's population of minorities. Accordingly, it was also reported that 11,574 comprised of Native American decedents, which would result in 7.40/o and translate into the largest minority group in this state.

The enormous task is evident as pointed out, and as Tribal leaders, we face a broad spectrum of problematic areas to wrangle with and in the face of a growing population of people see a diminishment of funding cuts currently. Tribal Leaders in the face of these kinds of challenges and obstacles are looked upon to lead and chart the course for this generation of our fellow tribal members. I see our Tribal Leaders as the newest modern day warriors stepping forward and symbolically resembling the "north star," pointing the way to a new realm and staying fixated despite the shifts and changes along the way. The new frontier as it pertains to Indian Nations again can be realized and achieved through the collective efforts. I would like to say, "Thank you" to Governor Schweitzer for providing an opportunity and forging a relationship that strengthens Tribal-State relations through the State of Tribal Nations address. I would like to also say "Thank you" to the members of the House of Representatives and Senate.

I would like to pause and take this time to acknowledge a very distinguished group of individuals who not only are Native American, but come from all parts of Montana. These are our veterans who've taken the time out of their lives to faithfully serve in the United States Armed Forces. There are an estimated 1,500 men and women who come from the various tribes across Montana, and are involved in wars in Afghanistan and Iraq or in security duty in other parts of the world. I would like to express the deepest respect and honor upon the veterans who have served and the service men/women on active duty now. I say Thank you for protecting our homelands and freedom. I want to specifically mention that among our Blackfeet Nation in the latter part of the 1800's lived a young female who became a powerful warrior in a time when men dominated in our society. Her name was, "Piita Mah Khann," or Running Eagle. Situated on the east side of Glacier National Park in the Two Medicine valley is a unique water fall formation that formally was known as "Trick Falls." Near this location many years ago, Running Eagle would travel there too fast and pray as part of her spiritual way of life. Today, this Water Falls bears her name, "Running Eagle Falls," testimony of a brave and courageous warrior who transcended. In addition our Blackfeet population is at about 17,000 enrolled members and still growing, I might add that the highest number of service men and women today come from the Blackfeet Nation serving on active duty status. Young Blackfeet tribal members serve in all branches of the US Armed Forces including the CIA. I ask at this moment if you will join me in a brief moment of silence for one of our Blackfeet members killed in recent years in the region of Shkin in eastern Afghanistan tracking and battling high level Taliban and Al Qaeda terrorists loyal to Osama Bin Laden. William F. "Chief" Carlson, 43, whose Blackfeet Indian name was "Ee-see-n-ah- MAH'-kan that means "Takes Rifle Ahead" was part of a CIA presence and faithfully performed his duties and role as part of the operation at the time his final request was to drape the Blackfeet Nation Flag over his coffin and display it yearly on Memorial day in addition to the U.S. flag. He and another officer (also killed) saved the lives of others that were in this remote region area without hesitating or regard for their own safety, but performed their duties and roles. Thank you! I have in our audience one of his relatives here, Ms. Trish Carlson Augare, my administrative assistant and sister-in-law to Senator/Councilman Shannon Augare.

I would like to bring attention and pay respect to those individuals who serve in our Law Enforcement departments all across Montana and to the local firefighters in each of our communities each of these respective professions help keep our families safe. They are a unique group of warriors who serve in their varying roles and guard and provide for our safety every day. Thank you for your dedication and for keeping all of us safe.

Tribal Leaders across Montana are similar to our elected Senators and Representatives sitting here today. We have aspirations of the tasks of running and maintaining a viable government and providing for a healthy budget to operate within. As First Nation people we envision ourselves as being able to work through the challenges of today's world with regard to poverty, high unemployment rates, and working to provide for improving our people's life expectancy and developing better educational health awareness that will improve the quality of life of our people. Establishing and maintaining good relations with government to government entities will foster and strengthen this area necessary to achieve those things that are paramount in Indian country.

In developing and strengthening the relationship in recent years we as Tribal Leaders appreciate the involvement of Indian people to work side by side on many of the issues that confront all of Montana and in Indian Country, it is evident with the essential part of state government. We saw after the elections in recent years where Ms. Denise Juneau became a vital part and function of this relationship by being elected to serve in the Office of Public Instruction Superintendent, the first Native American woman. Please help me to recognize Ms. Juneau who is Blackfeet but also part of the Three Affiliated Tribes- Mandan/HidatsalArikira of North Dakota. She is representative of the generation who have excelled through hard work and determination by achieving a sound educational understanding and returning home to work for Indian people. She is an inspiration for Indian country and is representative of what hard work and dedication will bring a person to. Another example can be seen in the Director of Indian Affairs Office and the role it plays in the relationship connection. Lesa Evers, who oversees that office, also has roots in Blackfeet country; she is also proud of her Cree side and lineage. Thank you to Lesa for all your hard work and to maintain a constant communication network that serves and keeps Montana's Tribes in the loop. Anna Whiting-Sorrell, who hails from the Confederated Salish Kootenai, is in command of a very important department. The Department of Health and Human Services is vital in support of the types of services and programs that is available for Tribes and their programs. These individuals play an important facet from a government to government setting and provide for a voice that keeps in mind all groups of people across Montana. Thank you.

Tribal Leaders across Montana feel that their voices can be heard and conveyed to the respective Representatives and Senators at the State level through during this 62nd Montana Legislature. This Legislature has in its midst many fine Senators and Representatives who are Native American. Will you please stand and be recognized. Our elected officials come from all parts of Montana and within each of their respective districts diligently strive to meet and address the many citizens' concerns and issues at the State Capitol. In the most recent election held, citizens of Glacier County elected a Republican woman, Ms. Lila Evans who is Blackfeet and is evident that Native Americans do elect and send Republicans to the Legislature. On a personal note, one day my son Billy Dee arrived home from high school and said he wanted to share something with me and his mother about something on his mind. Fearful that he was into something bad or had committed an unspeakable act, so we toughened up and sat down with Billy Dee, speaking slowly he said, "Mom, Dad, I want to tell you that I'm a Republican and believe in their views. Bracing for the worst you can imagine our look when it was revealed, and his mother and I took several deep breaths and said "Okay, is that all?" He said yes, and went off for cross-country practice. His mother replied to me, "Well, it looks like he's following in the footsteps of his great-great-great grandmother Mary Grounds," who was a staunch Republican. Some of her decedents are here today including my wife.

One committee who deserves a significant amount of respect and recognition is the Senate Appropriations Committee comprised of as a bipartisan effort working together on behalf of all Montana's citizens. One part that should be noted is the Indian Equity fund that was partially restored. On another front, the Indian Country Economic Development battle is ongoing and not over yet. I urge the members of this committee to restore a very important element with the ICED funds.

I had previously mentioned our respective elected officials. One person that I'd like to mention and has worked on this committee is fellow Blackfeet Tribal Council member and State Senator, Mr. Shannon Augare. Please stand and be recognized, Shannon participated in four elections in 2010. It is an honor to serve with on the Blackfeet Tribal Government level and appreciate your efforts at the State level for all the hard work you do. Thank you.

There are many important pieces of legislation that come to mind that ultimately serve the needs of Indian Nations; HB-2 Economic Development program that will aide business owners and spurn growth, HB-49, sponsor-Betsy Hands, that allows for the sale of bonds to help settle the Blackfeet water issues, HB-79 sponsored by Lila Evans that provides for authority for Blackfeet mitigation accounts/payments, HB-279 sponsored by Frank Smith that allows for access to the Governors' emergency fund in time of disasters, LC-1990 sponsored by Caroline Pease-Lopez, for issues of equality purpose with regard to tribal property used for governmental services and exemption from taxation, as local counties, cities and other entities get to enjoy, LC-2144 sponsored by Representative Gary Branae. Passage would allow tribal governments to continue their land acquisition programs by temporarily exempting tribal fee land from taxes while property moves into trust status. The federal process is lengthy and expensive. I previously had mentioned that the efforts of Betsy Hands in the revenue bonds for the settlement of the Blackfeet water compact are an ongoing process that in itself has many issues that are spurned from the topic. The upgrades and improvements will ultimately serve to better develop and enhance the water storage on the Blackfeet Reservation. Much of the work has involved bipartisan working relationships to continually move towards an agreeable solution. The water compact must be approved by the U.S. Congress and finally by a vote of the Blackfeet people. Water is a sacred element among tribes and is held in reverence as it is able to bring forth life and helps to nurture and sustain life.

TWENTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 3, 2011

The quest for success in these areas is dependent on the available resources on many fronts, locations, funding, and ability to market Tribes' product in a competitive market. The challenges existing are comprised in many different variables as Indian Nations struggle to tap into the realm of developing their own projects or opportunities. In recent years Indian Nations are mindful of the nature of the wind spirits and the power contained in the movement of our Montana winds. In a global sense more and more efforts are seen in the untapped renewable energy market that is yet to be harnessed and tamed that will in turn serve and provide for the needs of those Tribal Nations as they develop and create jobs and marketing the power to others. Federal funding is a source to assist and help Tribes by closely working to secure and develop such large variable wind projects, I encourage the State of Montana to assist and help in areas that pose a possible source to assist and help Tribes in their quests. Transmission lines should be considered among Tribes as an alternative to the large scale issues of land leasing, condemnation, and time spent in courts off the reservations. Tribes offer the available land sites for projects by way of the blocks of land that are in tribal status and can quickly be utilized without the process of land leasing problems encountered off the reservation. We are good neighbors and when sincere Tribal Leaders and their array of technicians are willing to sit and meet with potential investors, developers, and discuss the issue of an agreeable and equitable contract that hammers out the issues that each side may have. Please be advised that to realize the jurisdictional problem that companies or investors may have can be mutually agreed upon in a choice of legal resolution court system. Many Tribes are mindful of the concerns that this may pose and have developed policy changes from within their own respective governments, for example the Crow Nation implemented a version of the Model Secured Transaction Commercial Code that helps to provide protection and safeguard the private sector's interests and transactions. I might add that to help realize economic gains for our respective people, it is necessary to think outside the "circle."

A vast potential also exists with the tourism arena. Many Tribal lands are unique and or situated close to a special feature or landscape that they are able to draw from or utilize to promote and enhance their tourism industry. In the Blackfeet area we share the location with Glacier/Waterton National-International Park, most recently saw the celebration of the 100 year anniversary of Glacier. During the height near the end it is estimated that millions of visitors travel through our part of Montana in either direction; each of these visitors seek out new adventures or renew old ones by venturing back to Glacier National Park. The potential of these millions of visitors each year translates into dollars that help to vitalize and boost many businesses; that help them to grow by creation of jobs, and ability to upgrade their businesses' potential. Our Native people can tap into this market through small or large business ventures that caters to the desires of the visitors; for example, the arts and crafts can be tremendous for persons having this type of business, yet the vendors market and sell items crafted from foreign countries. Our visitors need to be aware that the frontier of Montana is not a lawless and unforgiving place to visit, yet the notion that Tribal communities are a place to quickly traverse without stopping. Improved awareness and knowledge about our Montana Tribes is necessary for the Tribes to expand and grow their interests in this area. Visitors need up-to- date information about our great state and our First Nation people, through improved tourist centers, or on the internet that is accurate and complete. Let us rid the old racial stereotypes and misunderstandings that Natives hear constantly as factors people express when they do stop on or near our reservation lands.

TWENTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 3, 2011

I would like to say that our Tribal people contribute in a large way to the border towns near reservations or to the larger cities like Billings, Great Falls, Helena, Kalispell, Butte, Missoula, Cut Bank, Conrad, Glasgow, Havre, Hardin, Williston ND to name a few. There needs to be a two-way partnership in that economic money must be transmitted back into communities located on the respective reservations. In a meeting I recently had with James Parker Shields, of War Shield Development Corporation, our people's hard earned dollars flow out, but in the ebb movement nothing comes back in. Our people are known for their generosity in many ways. During the high school basketball games off the reservation is a boom time in that clubs, 50-50, raffles, and other fund-raising projects benefit from the Native fans' dollars. Our presence has enhanced many.

The development of infrastructure and other economic opportunities are desired and appreciated that assists with Tribal economic progress. Other noted ventures such as the Northern Cheyenne's awarded stimulus funding to help with and provide for broadband opportunities for their communities and schools in that part of Montana. The potential for such a project not only will help the people in many ways, but will provide a quicker solution or results for the problems that they contend with in an array of settings. Schools, government offices, medical professions, and private citizens are able to complete their solutions faster by a broadband network with other parts of Montana and the world. In another setting Community Tel of Ronan partnered with a Blackfeet project company, Oki Communications, that will assist and bring about improvements and potential for both the Blackfeet and Confederated Salish and Kootenai tribes in many ways, also similar to the issues with the Northern Cheyenne Tribe.

The problems associated with life on the reservations is widely known, high death rates, low life expectancy, poverty issues, economic woes, and remoteness that confront our citizens on our reservations. It is important that the current Congress be mindful of the need to allow Health Care mandates for all of Montana. Please be mindful of the situation of those that depend on the facets of available and quality health care. I can stress that it is imperative that thoughts be focused on the newer generations of Montana's Tribal communities who have endured the inadequate health care as a result of budget cuts or disproportional formulas that factor allocations for our Indian Nations. I would like to take this time to recognize and mention a Blackfeet Elder whose eyes have seen a great deal throughout her life, Mrs. Lillian Henault Bullshoe, she is 103 years old and still going strong. Thank you.

HOUSE JOURNAL
TWENTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 3, 2011

Recently, I sat in this very room and heard Governor Schweitzer's State of the State address on the topic of education and how to lead a better life was to work hard and get a good, sound education that would provide for our youth out of high school. Our elders have encouraged us to stay in school, learn all that you can each and every day, "because" someday you're going to need it, and it will help you to survive in the world. I am extremely proud of the work with the bipartisan effort to promote and help establish "Indian Education For All." In other states and parts of the United States, Tribal Leaders and educators in those areas have expressed a desire to see a similar statute begin or be enacted in their respective states. Today you see the Young Grey Horse drum group carry on the culture, yet each are graduates of high school and some have entered the post secondary colleges/universities, and recently many of you witnessed the Blackfeet and Crow Tribes high school students perform through song and dance. Our local school districts can help to foster and assist to carry on the distinct cultural ways through a sound educational setting that brings about pride and encourages our students to proceed towards the next generation of leaders and citizens. Previously, I mentioned that many populations in smaller communities, towns, and school districts are diminishing and consolidating or merging together 2-3 at a time to create a larger school. Being an educator I know that this results in saving the taxpayers money in those areas, but at the same time creates a loss of identity or culture for those towns/communities that saw their schools close. On a flip side, Indian communities are seeing an increase in population growth; for example, our Blackfeet Tribe experienced an increase from last year when our population was 16,500 in comparison to this year's population that saw an increase to about 17,000 enrolled members excluding decedents. In our local district this resulted in the need to build a bigger high school and create more classroom space for the students. I might add that many of our area students either attend schools on the reservation in Browning and Heart Butte, others go off to attend BIA boarding schools, De LaSalle, Valier, Cut Bank or across the border in Cardston, Alberta, Canada. Other reservations may have similar growth spikes that result in the reorganization of their schools being reclassified such as Rocky Boy Reservations high school "Northern Stars" jumping from Class C to Class B.

As the state government wrangles with changes in the priorities of budgeting for our schools and institutions, as an educator and tribal leader I urge you to continue to provide for our students education across Montana. In reference to the Governor's statements you will be providing an opportunity for the generations to come with an opportunity and means to gain a good education that will improve their lives and provide for them. I want to add that I am a product of our Montana's school systems, Browning high school graduate, 1972, Blackfeet Tribal Community College 1985, University of Montana-BA degree in elementary education-2, 1994, MSU Masters of Education(M. Ed.)--School Administration/Leadership 2000, endorsements as K-12 principal and superintendent. So, in my house we have to bear on our bumpers the divided sticker advocating our loyalty for both the "Griz and Bobcats." I mentioned that the funding for the high school through the college/university eras for myself helped me to become a newer generation where I came back to provide for my family and enabled me to help educate our reservation students. My years as an educator/teacher saw me teach fourth grade for five years, seventh grade middle school for six years, and principal for six years, and I am proud to be a part of this professional group. Let's together look to support this very important foundation in our communities. They are our hopes and dreams for the future. Many of the tribal community colleges help to contribute and prepare students for the next level of their educational paths and are improving their ability to provide two-four year programs for a variety of degree opportunities. For example, Salish Kootenai College offers new four-year bachelor programs at an affordable cost, but the tribal colleges need our help. Rising costs for improvements to facilities, curriculum and staff are rising. We can attest to the fact that the costs have risen in many other areas that taxes student funds to stay and maintain themselves or families. Tribal institutions serve a variety of different students, members, non-members, while tribal institutions serve the needs of students as described. State institutions receive federal and state benefits that help cover their costs; tribal institutions do not have this opportunity. Non-Beneficiary Payments would most certainly provide and serve the needs of tribal institutions.

TWENTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 3, 2011

Indian Nations have always been mindful of the homeland security issue and in this decade have seen it soar to the front as a concern for our country and state. Each Tribal Leader is aware of the encroachment or trespass problem in terms of protecting their tribal lands or environments. In today's globally changing world we are all concerned with the issue of providing for and maintaining a safe community that connects all our respective forces together in the Indian community. Close coordination of law enforcement agencies, medical and disaster agencies, and municipal entities such as towns/cities, and tribal security forces-Fish and Game, Indian Health Service (IHS) security, Housing Security, Facilities Security. Our Blackfeet Nation borders that of Alberta, Canada, with approximately 70 miles of fence that is largely unprotected. Funding is necessary to provide for our own Tribal Nation's forces to enable each Tribe to provide for their own internal agency charged with providing for our safety and that of the country. As it is, funding for the Blackfeet amounts to a trickle-down process and is significantly diminished in the amount to maintain and provide for a fully equipped department comprised of tribal members with law enforcement background. Presently our Tribe has one full-time employee and two part-time employees, yet the federal agencies-Border Patrol, ICE, Customs, Immigration, and Canadian Southern Alberta region RCMP, seek out our department staff due to the tribal lands of the Blackfeet Nation. All we ask is that Tribes be afforded any funding or consultation as it pertains to our homeland security and for the protection of our tribal members.

I would like to say that our new frontier is upon us again in these new millennia. The Schweitzer Administration have provided an opportunity for Tribal Nations that are self governing and the State of Montana to come together and work towards resolving the issues that present themselves as barriers or obstacles for the growth in Indian Country. Many Tribes have taken the risk and have taken the steps towards forging progress and economic growth in their communities: Blackfeet Nation established inroads into the military contracting with the creation of Blackfeet Advanced and Radiance Technologies and Chief Mountain Technologies with ability for Super 8a status; Crow Nation ventured into the Coal-to-Liquid Plant; Confederated Salish, Kootenai Nation established S & K Technologies; Fort Peck Nation forged ahead with A & S Industries; Fort Belknap Indian Community Council developed beef processing and packaging.

We are witnessing a great segment of time for Montana and for the Indian Nations. We ask and promise you a results and a return on the investments if you join us in the Circle. I ask if the legislature to restore funding to the Indian Economic Development grant. Through this opportunity my tribe was able to utilize the appreciated funding to establish a facility to manufacture materials. The $70,000 investment was a part to bring about a $3.2 million military project onto the Blackfeet Reservation employing tribal members with jobs, education and an opportunity to demonstrate to everyone we are serious and want to succeed. Our tribal members have showcased our Adaptive Lightweight Material Construction products to our Montana Senators in recent times. This opportunity capital has been a nexus to the success that Tribal Leaders and the movers and shakers envision and realize with the Indian Equity Funding that assisted Indian businesses around the state.

There can be many victories and together we can all count coup on those challenges that confront the Indian Nations that are self governing and together we can share in the growth of all Montana's citizens no matter what color we are. Tribes are ready for assembling their respective tribesmen and conquering the foes of economic setbacks, poverty, poor health care issues, and social ills that confront us all. I ask that all of us here today resolve our issues with the dialogue processes and empower yourself to better understand those that inhabit Montana. In the historic old days strength and unity resulted in the large camp of lodges. Let us not set ourselves away into smaller camps of lodges and remain disconnected. Together let us forge our progress collectively and achieve the dreams by maintaining One Lodge, One Circle, and One Home Campfire. Thanks to the Creator, for all the things we enjoy, our families/friends, our health, and let us not forget our obligations as we live in this Great State of Montana. Always remember that on this day we were a family of brothers and sisters together, Soo ka pii, Hun yii.

Representative Small gave the benediction.

House stood at ease as the Senate and guests exited.

Sen. Essmann moved that the body resolve itself into a joint session for the purpose of receiving an address by the Honorable Congressman from the State of Montana, Denny Rehberg. Motion carried.

Sen. Essmann moved that the President be authorized to appoint a committee of four to notify Congressman Rehberg that we are in joint session and ready to receive his address.

President Peterson appointed Senators Brenden, Larsen, and Representatives More and Reinhart.

Sgt-at-Arms Clark announced that the committee to escort the Honorable Denny Rehberg awaits entrance to the House Chamber.

President Peterson requested that Sgt-at-Arms Clark admit Congressman Rehberg into the House Chamber.

President Peterson introduced Congressman Rehberg.

Congressman Rehberg made the following comments:

Thank you, Speaker Milburn and President Peterson. Addressing the Montana Legislature is always a high honor for me and also a bit of a homecoming.

I look around this Chamber and I see a lot of my old friends and former colleagues. Your faces remind me of all the ways we have worked together to serve the people of Montana - and make sure our state remains a great place to start a small business or to raise a big family!

Of course, it's good to see a lot of new faces out there as well! Congratulations to all of you who have taken your seats in this Legislature for the first time. Last November, people across Montana and across America spoke with a clear voice. Today, they speak through your voices.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 7, 2011

I know you will never forget what an honor it is to serve our state. On January 5 of this year, I took an Oath of Office myself once again. As in this Chamber, there were a lot of new faces as well. Like today, there was a man who was new to the title of "Speaker" but who wore it very well!

The Oath I took was to support and defend the Constitution of the United States and to "well and faithfully discharge" the duties of my office. My purpose today is to share with all of you how I propose that the new Congress and this new Legislature can work together effectively and live up to our Oaths together.

As you know, there are two basic visions of how the federal government should be in relationship with the states and rarely in American history has the difference between those visions been more obvious. One vision, paternalism, has been guiding the power brokers in Washington over the last two years:

It's the idea that the federal government knows best; it's the idea that state legislators like you need to be told what to do; it's the idea that the American people just need to shut up and let the "experts" do their thing.

I, for one, am glad that the American people did not shut up; and I'm glad they have rejected the insufferable arrogance that they saw coming out of Washington, DC.

The American people showed they believe in the second vision which is called states' rights. It's the idea that the people are the experts and that the best government is self-government; it's the idea that the states created the federal government not the other way around and that states like Montana remain the best "laboratories of democracy" in the entire world. It's the idea that Washington has important responsibilities but limited powers, and that when Washington tries to do too much, most of the time it tends to screw things up.

Like most Americans, I believe that states' rights is the right vision. Why? One reason is that our founders got a lot of things right. One of them, James Madison, wrote in the Federalist Papers that "The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and indefinite."

Another Founder, Thomas Jefferson, wrote this: "The several states composing the United States of America are not united on the principle of unlimited submission to their general government;"

Madison and Jefferson were smart guys - but I say: if you want to understand the wisdom of states' rights, you don't need to read about it in a history book; you can see it - right here in the assembled representatives of the Montana Legislature.

As members of the Montana Legislature, you represent the character and vitality of our great state. Some of you are job creators and running your own small businesses; some of you are public school teachers - and helping our children realize their full potential; others work in health care, energy, and other fields where technology is creating opportunities that our parents never dreamed of; I see a few fellow parents in this Chamber by the way - and a few grandparents as well.

All of you have one thing in common: every single one of you is a citizen-legislator. The taxes you raise you will have to pay; the regulations you impose, you will have to comply with. You don't have to visit your constituents - you are your constituents: and your perspective will guide you to govern well.

My job as your Congressman is to defend the states' rights principle in Washington. That means focusing on the core responsibilities of the federal government; that means getting Washington off the backs of our people - as well as legislators like you in state capitals across America; and that means ending federal management of the gray wolf population here in Montana.

Unfortunately, the only thing growing faster than the gray wolf population is the number of obstructionist environmental groups and their lawyers. Environmental obstructionists found a federal judge in Missoula that was willing to ignore the scientific evidence as well as the expert opinions of on-the-ground wildlife managers here in Montana. And he ruled last August that the grey wolf had to remain on the Endangered Species List.

When I first heard his decision, like many of you, I wanted to take action immediately. I asked: How can we put some of these judicial activists on the Endangered Species List? I am still working on that! But in the meantime, I have introduced legislation that would permanently end federal jurisdiction over the gray wolf population - and return responsibility to the wildlife managers here in Montana.

By the way, I am glad to hear that Senator Baucus supports the federalist principle when it comes to the gray wolf population. I understand he told this Chamber a few weeks ago that: "Montanans, not Washington bureaucrats, know best how to manage wolves." That was well said. But I wonder when he's going to figure out that Montanans, not Washington bureaucrats, know best how to manage our own health care too!

You don't need me to tell you that the new federal health care law is one of the biggest affronts to states' rights in American history. Some Americans call this law "ObamaCare." But two federal judges have now called it "unconstitutional."

We knew some of the bad news on the front end: It's got half a trillion dollars in higher taxes; Another half trillion in cuts to Medicare; and thousands of pages of red tape.

But somehow the more we learn about the new health care law, the less there is to like. We have discovered that the new law imposed a huge burden of paperwork on small businesses by requiring them to submit countless "1099 Forms" to the IRS. We have heard that the employer mandate is so onerous that it may be cheaper for some employers to just pay the fine and eliminate health insurance coverage for their current employees. We have seen how the Obama Administration has granted "waivers" from its own health care law for more than 700 organizations a lot of them unions and the big dogs who can afford to hire the best-dressed lobbyists in Washington. And legislators like you have learned the full extent of the unfunded mandate imposed through the expansion of the Medicaid program which in our state is estimated to blow a hole in our state budget of more than $100 million through 2019.

HOUSE JOURNAL

I appreciate that the Supreme Court may ultimately declare the health care bill unconstitutional. I certainly hope they do so if it comes to that as a matter of law. But Congress passed this law, so Congress can repeal it. And on January 19th, I was proud to stand with 244 of my colleagues as we voted to repeal this terrible law. Unfortunately, we can't repeal the failed stimulus bill or all the other reckless federal spending over the last two years because the money's already out the door. You all know the numbers: the federal budget deficit this year will be over one trillion dollars for the third straight year, according to the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office; Washington now borrows more than 40 cents of every dollar we spend; and our federal debt has grown to an unbelievable 14 trillion dollars.

All this spending has been unsuccessful because it didn't keep our national unemployment rate below 8 percent as the White House promised. And a lot of this spending has been just plain dumb: the Obama Administration sent about 89,000 stimulus checks to dead people; the stimulus bill also included: $1.9 million for international ant research; $700,000 to study why monkeys respond negatively to inequity; and nearly $200,000 to study voter perceptions of the stimulus bill itself!

Here in Montana, we were promised that millions of stimulus dollars would go to the Whitetail Port of Entry until the Canadians decided that 5 vehicles a day wasn't worth their own taxpayer dollars and decided to close their side. And in what has to be the most ironic earmark of them all the omnibus spending bill that was blocked in the Senate right before Christmas included more than $700,000 to compensate ranchers in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Michigan whose cattle are eaten by--you guessed it--endangered wolves!

But the biggest travesty of Washington's stimulus spending spree is not that it was a waste of money; it's that the money has been stolen in plain sight from our children and grandchildren. Every dollar of the national debt is a dollar our children will not have the freedom to spend or to save for themselves. Every paycheck they receive will be smaller; their family budgets tighter, not because they chose to send their hard-earned money to Washington but because Washington took it and spent it before they even earned it--before they even got a chance to vote--for many of our children, before they were even born! This is what "taxation without representation" looks like in the 21st Century. And, it means our nation's fiscal mess is not just a math problem, it's a moral problem and we owe our children much better leadership.

The new majority in the House of Representatives believes we need to face our spending problem head-on--and that's why we unanimously voted to ban all earmarks in the 112th Congress. I stand before you as a reformed earmarker; I know this reform is long overdue; and I know it's just the first step we needed to take to get back on the path of fiscal discipline. More difficult spending decisions lie ahead and I will help lead this effort as Chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee for Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education. This is the subcommittee that has the power to end funding for ObamaCare. It's the subcommittee with major responsibilities for entitlement reform.

My colleagues and I will help re-establish fiscal discipline in Washington but that doesn't mean the battle for states' rights is over. Instead, we can already see the battle shifting: from the halls of the Capitol to the layers of federal bureaucracy that are imposing huge new regulatory burdens on the American people. And even when Congress hasn't given federal agencies more power, they've taken it anyway: when Congress didn't pass the disastrous "cap and trade" bill, the Environmental Protection Agency said: no problem! We'll just reclassify carbon dioxide - that's the stuff you and I are exhaling right this very minute as a "pollutant" that they now can regulate under the Clean Air Act.

And last week, the EPA claimed that it now has jurisdiction over spilled milk. I am not making this up. You see, Congress gave the agency responsibility over oil spills - which makes sense. But someone told them that milk contains animal fat - which is a form of non-petroleum oil. And ... well you get the picture. The impact on Montana's dairy farmers could be severe not to mention surreal. They may soon have to develop "emergency management plans" for spilled milk - as well as train "first responders." I say: If anyone wants a "first responder" for spilled milk, just adopt a cat!

Here's another example of regulatory overreach that hits us close to home here in Montana. A lot of us were surprised to learn that the Obama Administration developed a secret plan in the Interior Department to take over millions of acres of our state by declaring them a "national monument." To borrow a phrase from President Obama: "Let me be clear." No additional national monuments should be created in our state without input from the people of Montana and the approval of Congress. I've introduced legislation to stop federal bureaucrats from abusing their regulatory powers and I assure you I will be on high alert for any other power grabs that could impact our state.

As I'm fighting the battle for states' rights in Washington, I encourage all of you to continue to make the case for good government here in Helena. I implore you: keep the pressure on us in Congress. Show us how the new health care law is busting the state budget and don't make it any easier for it to be implemented in our state.

Don't wait on Congress to send a balanced budget amendment to the states for ratification: instead, send a petition to Congress to force us to call a constitutional convention if we fail to act! And continue to pass resolutions to call attention to our broken immigration system and other ways the federal government is failing the people of Montana.

By far the best thing you can do is to continue to be one of the best performing "laboratories of democracy" in America: by keeping government spending and taxes under control; by making sure Montana remains a great place to build a business and raise a family; by showing that Montana doesn't have a lot to learn from Washington though we do have a lot of commonsense solutions to share.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTIETH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 7, 2011

I believe over the next several years we will witness the implosion of the "paternalistic" model of government: California has doubled down on its high tax, high regulation experiment with big government. Illinois just raised personal income taxes by 66 percent! Our state has a tremendous opportunity: to present itself as the compelling contrast to these failed models; to help restore faith in limited government and to prove the wisdom of states' rights.

Conclusion: Honor the Troops

Whatever happens over the next 90 days and during your entire term in office, I hope you will remember to be humble in your public service as I am: None of us are perfect creatures in the sight of God - but all of us are made in His image - and our oaths call us to live and lead by His example of love and self-sacrifice. Also remember that our freedom isn't free. Even as we speak, Montanans are defending liberty in far-off places that are full of danger. Everybody says to pray for our troops - and of course we all should. But we should also try to see America - and our beloved Montana - as our troops see it: a place well worth defending; Because it remains a land of promise.

God bless you all and God Bless the Great State of Montana.

President Peterson instructed the committee of four to escort the Congressman and guests from the chamber.

Sen. Essmann moved that the joint session be adjourned. Motion carried.

Rep. McGillvray moved that the House Republicans caucus. Without objection, so ordered.

House Recessed.

House Reconvened.

"20-5-321. Attendance with mandatory approval -- tuition and transportation. (1) An out-of-district attendance agreement that allows a child to enroll in and attend a school in a Montana school district that is outside of the child's district of residence or in a public school district of a state or province that is adjacent to the county of the child's residence is mandatory whenever:

(a) the child resides closer to the school that the child wishes to attend and more than 3 miles from the school the child would attend in the resident district and the resident district does not provide transportation;

(b) (i) the child resides in a location where, because of geographic conditions between the child's home and the school that the child would attend within the district of residence, it is impractical to attend school in the district of residence, as determined by the county transportation committee based on the following criteria:

(A) the length of time that is in excess of the 1-hour limit for each bus trip for an elementary child as authorized under 20-10-121;

(B) whether distance traveled is greater than 40 miles one way from the child's home to school on a dirt road or greater than a total of 60 miles one way from the child's home to school in the district of residence over the shortest passable route; or

(C) whether the condition of the road or existence of a geographic barrier, such as a river or mountain pass, causes a hazard that prohibits safe travel between the home and school.

(ii) The decision of the county transportation committee is subject to appeal to the superintendent of public instruction, as provided in 20-3-107, but the decision must be considered as final for the purpose of the payment of tuition under 20-5-324(5)(a)(ii) until a decision is issued by the superintendent of public instruction. The superintendent of public instruction may review and rule upon a decision of the county transportation committee without an appeal being filed.

(c) the child is a member of a family that is required to send another child outside of the elementary district to attend high school and the child of elementary age may more conveniently attend an elementary school where the high school is located, provided that the child resides more than 3 miles from an elementary school in the resident district or that the parent is required to move to the elementary district where the high school is located to enroll another child in high school. A child enrolled in an elementary school pursuant to this subsection (1)(c) may continue to attend the elementary school after the other child has left the high school.

(d) the child is under the protective care of a state agency or has been adjudicated to be a youth in need of intervention or a delinquent youth, as defined in 41-5-103; or

(e) the child is required to attend school outside of the district of residence as the result of a placement in foster care or a group home licensed by the state; or

~~(f) the child is residing with a caretaker relative who wants to enroll the child pursuant to~~

~~20-5-502.~~

(2) (a) Whenever a parent or guardian of a child, an agency of the state, or a court wishes to have a child attend a school under the provisions of this section, the parent or guardian, agency, or court shall complete an out-of-district attendance agreement in consultation with an appropriate official of the district that the child will attend.

(b) The attendance agreement must set forth the financial obligations, if any, for costs incurred for tuition and transportation as provided in 20-5-323 and Title 20, chapter 10.

(c) (i) The trustees of the district of choice may waive any or all of the tuition rate. The trustees of the district of choice may waive the tuition for all students whose tuition is required to be paid by one type of entity and may charge tuition for all students whose tuition is required to be paid by another type of entity. However, any waiver of tuition must be applied equally to all students whose tuition is paid by the same type of entity.

(ii) As used in this subsection (2)(c), "entity" means a parent, a guardian, the trustees of the district of residence, or a state agency.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4), the trustees of the resident district and the trustees of the district of attendance shall approve the out-of-district attendance agreement. The trustees of the district of attendance shall:

(a) notify the county superintendent of schools of the county of the child's residence of the approval of the agreement within 10 days; and

(b) submit the agreement for a student attending under the provisions of subsection (1)(d) or (1)(e) to the superintendent of public instruction for approval for payment under 20-5-324.

(4) Unless the child is a child with a disability who resides in the district, the trustees of the district where the school to be attended is located may disapprove an out-of-district attendance agreement whenever they find that, because of insufficient room and overcrowding, the accreditation of the school would be adversely affected by the acceptance of the child.""

Low-speed restricted driver's license. (1) The department may issue a low-speed restricted driver's license to a person who is physically or otherwise impaired in a manner and degree that prevent the person from safely operating a motor vehicle across the range of speeds permitted or required on a public highway.

(2) (a) To qualify for a low-speed restricted driver's license, an applicant shall submit to the department a medical evaluation or statement from a treating physician that attests to the person's impairment and resulting inability to safely operate a motor vehicle across the range of speeds permitted or required on a public highway.

(b) The applicant must be otherwise qualified for a driver's license under this chapter and shall apply for a driver's license under 61-5-107, pay the fees required in 61-5-111, and pass the vision test, the knowledge test, and the road test required under 61-5-110. The road test must be modified to conform to the operational limitations of the vehicle.

(3) The department may issue a low-speed restricted instruction permit, valid for 30 days from the date of issuance, to a person who qualifies for a low-speed restricted driver's license under this section and who passes the vision test and knowledge test required in 61-5-110. A permitholder may operate a low-speed electric vehicle or golf cart pursuant to [section 1] while in the immediate possession of the permit and accompanied by a licensed driver seated beside the permitholder."

"10-3-1307. Responsibilities of department of transportation -- assessment and collection of fees -- issuance of permits -- inspection of motor carriers. (1) After receiving notification from the person or entity that plans to ship high-level radioactive waste or transuranic waste through the state, the department of transportation shall assess fees according to the following schedule:

(a) a fee of $2,500 must be assessed for each cask designed for transport by truck; and

(b) a fee of $4,500 must be assessed for the first cask designed for transport by rail and a fee of $3,000 for each additional cask designed for transport by rail that is shipped by the same person or entity in the same shipment.

(2) Payment of the fees provided in subsection (1) is the responsibility of the person or entity who owns the waste.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 8, 2011

(3) Upon receipt of the fees provided in subsection (1), the department of transportation shall issue to the owner of the waste a permit that must be carried with the waste as it is traveling through the state.

(4) The department of transportation shall deposit all of the fees collected under this section in the radioactive waste transportation monitoring, emergency response, and training account created in 10-3-1304.

(5) If the waste is to be transported through the state by motor carrier, the department of transportation shall coordinate with the highway patrol on the inspection of the motor carrier by the motor carrier services division.

(6) This section does not exempt the operator of a motor carrier from any of the provisions of Title 61, chapter 10, from Title 69, chapter 12, or from any other law that applies to the operation of motor vehicles in Montana.

(7) Fees under this section must be assessed regardless of ownership, and ~~61-3-321(13)~~ 61-3-321(14) and 61-10-127 do not apply."

"23-1-105. Fees and charges. (1) The department may levy and collect reasonable fees or other charges for the use of privileges and conveniences that may be provided and to grant concessions that it considers advisable, except as provided in subsections (2) and (6). All money derived from the activities of the department, except as provided in subsection (5), must be deposited in the state treasury in a state special revenue fund to the credit of the department.

(2) Overnight camping fees established by the department under subsection (1) must be discounted 50% for a campsite rented by a person who is a resident of Montana, as defined in 87-2-102, and either 62 years of age or older or certified as disabled in accordance with rules adopted by the department.

(3) For a violation of any fee collection rule involving a vehicle, the registered owner of the vehicle at the time of the violation is personally responsible if an adult is not in the vehicle at the time the violation is discovered by an authorized officer. A defense that the vehicle was driven into the fee area by another person is not allowable unless it is shown that at that time, the vehicle was being used without the consent of the registered owner.

(4) Money received from the collection of fees and charges is subject to the deposit requirements of 17-6-105(6) unless the department has submitted and received approval for a modified deposit schedule pursuant to 17-6-105(8).

(5) There is a fund of the enterprise fund type, as defined in 17-2-102(2)(a), for the purpose of managing state park visitor services revenue. The fund is to be used by the department to serve the recreating public by providing for the obtaining of inventory through purchase, production, or donation and for the sale of educational, commemorative, and interpretive merchandise and other related goods and services at department sites and facilities. The fund consists of money from the sale of educational, commemorative, and interpretive merchandise and other related goods and services and from donations. Gross revenue from the sale of educational, commemorative, and interpretive merchandise and other related goods and services must be deposited in the fund. All interest and earnings on money deposited in the fund must be credited to the fund for use as provided in this subsection.

(6) In recognition of the fact that individuals support state parks through the payment of certain motor vehicle registration fees, persons who pay the fee provided for in ~~61-3-321(18)(a)~~ 61-3-321(19)(a) may not be required to pay a day-use fee for access to state parks. Other fees for the

(b) A motorcycle, quadricycle, trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, or travel trailer must have a single license plate displayed on the rear of the vehicle. A custom vehicle or street rod registered under 61-3-320(1)(b) or (1)(c)(iii) may display a single license plate firmly attached to the rear exterior of the custom vehicle or street rod. All other motor vehicles must have one license plate displayed on the front and one license plate displayed on the rear of the motor vehicle.

(c) A person may not display on a motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, or travel trailer at the same time a number assigned to it under any motor vehicle law except as provided in this chapter.

(d) A low-speed electric vehicle or a golf cart operated by a person with a low-speed restricted driver's license must have special license plates, as provided in 61-3-332(9), displayed on the front and rear of the vehicle.

(2) A person may not purchase or display on a motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, or travel trailer a license plate bearing the number assigned to any county, as provided in 61-3-332, other than the county where the vehicle is domiciled or the county where the trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, or travel trailer is domiciled at the time of application for registration.

(3) It is unlawful to:

(a) display license plates issued to one motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, or travel trailer on any other motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, or travel trailer unless legally transferred as provided by statute;

(b) repaint old license plates to resemble current license plates; or

(c) display a prior design of standard license plates including military, veteran, and amateur radio license plates, or any license plates that have been issued for 5 or more years after the replacement of the license plates is required under 61-3-332(3)(a), except as provided in 61-3-332(3)(c) and (3)(d), 61-3-448, or 61-3-468.

(4) For the purposes of this section, "conspicuously displayed" means that the required license plates are obviously visible and firmly attached to:

(a) the front bumper and the rear bumper of a motor vehicle equipped with front and rear bumpers, except for a custom vehicle or street rod as provided in subsection (1)(b); or

(b) a clearly visible location on the rear of a trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, or travel trailer.""

 - (ii) unless a new set of license plates is being issued, an insurance verification fee of $5, which must be deposited in the account established under 61-6-158; and
 - (iii) if applicable, five times the renewal fees for personalized license plates under 61-3-406.
- (8) (a) Except as provided in subsection ~~(14)~~(15), the one-time registration fee for motorcycles and quadricycles registered for use on public highways is $53.25, and the one-time registration fee for motorcycles and quadricycles registered for both off-road use and for use on the public highways is $114.50.
- (b) An additional fee of $16 must be collected for the registration of each motorcycle or quadricycle as a safety fee, which must be deposited in the state motorcycle safety account provided for in 20-25-1002.
- (9) Except as provided in subsection ~~(14)~~(15), the one-time registration fee for travel trailers, based on the length of the travel trailer, is as follows:
- (a) under 16 feet in length, $72; and
 - (b) 16 feet in length or longer, $152.
- (10) Except as provided in subsection ~~(14)~~(15), the one-time registration fee for a motorboat, sailboat, personal watercraft, or motorized pontoon required to be numbered under 23-2-512 is as follows:
- (a) for a personal watercraft or a motorboat, sailboat, or motorized pontoon less than 16 feet in length, $65.50;
 - (b) for a motorboat, sailboat, or motorized pontoon at least 16 feet in length but less than 19 feet in length, $125.50; and
 - (c) for a motorboat, sailboat, or motorized pontoon 19 feet in length or longer, $295.50.
- (11) (a) Except as provided in subsections (11)(b) and ~~(14)~~(15), the one-time registration fee for a snowmobile is $60.50.
- (b) (i) A snowmobile that is licensed by a Montana business and is owned exclusively for the purpose of daily rental to customers is assessed:
- (A) a fee of $40.50 in the first year of registration; and
 - (B) if the business reregisters the snowmobile for a second year, a fee of $20.
- (ii) If the business reregisters the snowmobile for a third year, the snowmobile must be permanently registered and the business is assessed the registration fee imposed in subsection (11)(a).
- (12) (a) The one-time registration fee for a low-speed electric vehicle is $53.25.
- (b) The one-time registration fee for a golf cart that is owned by a person who has or is applying for a low-speed restricted driver's license is $53.25.
- ~~(12)~~(13) (a) Except as provided in subsection ~~(12)~~(b) ~~(13)~~(b), a fee of $10 must be collected when a new set of standard license plates, a new single standard license plate, or a replacement set of special license plates required under 61-3-332 is issued. The $10 fee imposed under this subsection does not apply when previously issued license plates are transferred under 61-3-335. All registration fees imposed under this section must be paid if the vehicle to which the plates are transferred is not currently registered.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 8, 2011

(b) Until January 1, 2015, an additional fee of $15 must be collected if a vehicle owner elects to keep the same license plate number from license plates issued on or after January 1, 2006, but before January 1, 2010, when replacement of those plates is required under 61-3-332(3).

(c) The fees imposed in this subsection ~~(12)~~(13) must be deposited in the account established under 61-6-158, except that $2 of the fee imposed in subsection ~~(12)(a)~~ (13)(a) must be deposited in the state general fund.

~~(13)~~(14) The provisions of this part with respect to the payment of registration fees do not apply to and are not binding upon motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers, snowmobiles, watercraft, or tractors owned or controlled by the United States of America or any state, county, city, or special district, as defined in 18-8-202, or to a vehicle or vessel that meets the description of property exempt from taxation under 15-6-201(1)(a), (1)(c), (1)(d), (1)(e), (1)(f), (1)(g), (1)(i), (1)(j), (1)(l), or (1)(m), 15-6-203, or 15-6-215, except as provided in 61-3-520.

~~(14)~~(15) Whenever ownership of a trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, off-highway vehicle, motorcycle, quadricycle, travel trailer, motor home, motorboat, sailboat, personal watercraft, motorized pontoon, snowmobile, or motor vehicle owned and operated solely as a collector's item pursuant to 61-3-411, or low-speed electric vehicle is transferred, the new owner shall title and register the vehicle or vessel as required by this chapter and pay the fees imposed under this section.

~~(15)~~(16) A person eligible for a waiver under 61-3-460 is exempt from the fees required under this section.

~~(16)~~(17) Except as otherwise provided in this section, revenue collected under this section must be deposited in the state general fund.

~~(17)~~(18) The fees imposed by subsections (2) through ~~(14)~~(12) are not required to be paid by a dealer for the enumerated vehicles or vessels that constitute inventory of the dealership.

~~(18)~~(19) (a) Unless a person exercises the option in subsection ~~(18)(b)~~ (19)(b), an additional fee of $4 must be collected for each light vehicle registered under this part. This fee must be accounted for and transmitted separately from the registration fee. The fee must be deposited in an account in the state special revenue fund to be used for state parks, for fishing access sites, and for the operation of state-owned facilities. Of the $4 fee, the department of fish, wildlife, and parks shall use $3.50 for state parks, 25 cents for fishing access sites, and 25 cents for the operation of state-owned facilities at Virginia City and Nevada City.

(b) A person who registers a light vehicle may, at the time of annual registration, certify that the person does not intend to use the vehicle to visit state parks and fishing access sites and may make a written election not to pay the additional $4 fee provided for in subsection ~~(18)(a)~~ (19)(a). If a written election is made, the fee may not be collected.

~~(19)~~(20) For each light vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, heavy truck, motor home, motorcycle, quadricycle, and travel trailer subject to a registration fee under this section, an additional fee of $5 must be collected and forwarded to the state for deposit in the account established in 44-1-504.

~~(20)~~(21) This section does not apply to a motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, or pole trailer that is governed by 61-3-721."

"Section 10. Section 61-3-332, MCA, is amended to read:

"61-3-332. Standard license plates. (1) In addition to special license plates, collegiate license plates, generic specialty license plates, and fleet license plates authorized under this chapter, a separate series of standard license plates must be issued for motor vehicles, quadricycles, travel trailers, trailers, semitrailers, and pole trailers registered in this state or offered for sale by a vehicle dealer licensed in this state. Standard license plates issued to licensed vehicle dealers must be readily distinguishable from license plates issued to vehicles owned by other persons.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 8, 2011

(2) (a) Except as provided in 61-3-479 and subsections (2)(b), (3)(b), and (3)(c) of this section, all standard license plates for motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers, or pole trailers must bear a distinctive marking, as determined by the department, and be furnished by the department. In years when standard license plates are not reissued for a vehicle, the department shall provide a registration decal that must be affixed to the rear license plate of the vehicle.

(b) For light vehicles that are permanently registered as provided in 61-3-562 and motor vehicles described in 61-3-303(9) that are permanently registered, the department shall provide a distinctive registration decal indicating that the motor vehicle is permanently registered. The registration decal must be affixed to the rear license plate of the permanently registered motor vehicle.

(c) For a travel trailer, motorcycle, quadricycle, trailer, semitrailer, or pole trailer that is permanently registered as provided in 61-3-313(2), the department may use the word or an abbreviation for the word "permanent" on the plate in lieu of issuing a registration decal for the plate.

(3) (a) (i) Beginning January 1, 2010, and every 5 years after that date, the department shall design standard license plates to replace previously issued standard license plates. For the purposes of this subsection (3), all military, veteran, and amateur radio license plates and any license plate with a wheelchair design, excluding collegiate or generic specialty plates with a wheelchair design, are treated as standard license plates.

(ii) License plates issued on or after January 1, 2010, must be replaced with the most recent design of standard license plates or a new replacement collegiate or generic specialty license plate if, upon renewal of registration under ~~61-3-332~~ this section, the license plates are 5 or more years old or will become older than 5 years during the registration period.

(iii) License plates issued on or before January 1, 2010, must be replaced with the most recent design of standard license plates or a new replacement collegiate or generic specialty license plate in accordance with the implementation schedule adopted by the department under 61-3-315. Until January 1, 2015, and upon payment of the fee required in ~~61-3-321(12)(b)~~ 61-3-321(13)(b), a vehicle owner may elect to keep the same license plate number from license plates issued on or after January 1, 2006, but before January 1, 2010, when replacement of those plates is required under this subsection.

(b) A motor vehicle that is registered for a 13-month to a 24-month period, as provided in 61-3-311, may display the license plate and plate design in effect at the time of registration for the entire registration period.

(c) A light vehicle described in subsection (2)(b) or a motor home that is permanently registered may display the license plate and plate design in effect at the time of registration for the entire period that the light vehicle or motor home is permanently registered.

(d) The provisions of this subsection (3) do not apply to a travel trailer, motorcycle, quadricycle, trailer, semitrailer, or pole trailer.

(e) The requirements of this subsection (3) apply to collegiate license plates authorized under 61-3-461 through 61-3-468, generic specialty license plates authorized under 61-3-472 through 61-3-481, commemorative centennial license plates authorized under 61-3-448, and special military or veteran license plates authorized under 61-3-458.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 8, 2011

(4) For trailers and motor vehicles, other than motorcycles and quadricycles, plates must be of metal 6 inches wide and 12 inches in length. Except for generic specialty license plates, the outline of the state of Montana must be used as a distinctive border on all license plates, and the word "Montana" must be placed on each license plate. All license plates must be treated with a reflectorized background material according to specifications prescribed by the department.

(5) The distinctive registration numbers for standard license plates must begin with a number one or with a letter-number combination, such as "A 1" or "AA 1", or any other similar combination of letters and numbers. Except for special license plates, collegiate license plates, generic specialty license plates, and fleet license plates, the distinctive registration number or letter-number combination assigned to the motor vehicle must appear on the plate preceded by the number of the county and appearing in horizontal order on the same horizontal baseline. The county number must be separated from the distinctive registration number by a separation mark unless a letter-number combination is used. The dimensions of the numerals and letters must be determined by the department, and all county and registration numbers must be of equal height.

(6) For the use of exempt motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers, or pole trailers and motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers, or pole trailers that are exempt from the registration fee as provided in 61-3-321, in addition to the markings provided in this section, standard license plates must bear the following distinctive markings:

(a) For motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers, or pole trailers owned by the state, the department may designate the prefix number for the various state departments. All numbered plates issued to state departments must bear the words "State Owned", and a year number may not be indicated on the plates because these numbered plates are of a permanent nature and will be replaced by the department only when the physical condition of numbered plates requires it.

(b) For motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers, or pole trailers that are owned by the counties, municipalities, and special districts, as defined in 18-8-202, organized under the laws of Montana and not operating for profit, and that are used and operated by officials and employees in the line of duty and for motor vehicles on loan from the United States government or the state of Montana to, or owned by, the civil air patrol and used and operated by officials and employees in the line of duty, there must be placed on the standard license plates assigned, in a position that the department may designate, the letter "X" or the word "EXEMPT". Distinctive registration numbers for plates assigned to motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers, or pole trailers of each of the counties in the state and those of the municipalities and special districts that obtain plates within each county must begin with number one and be numbered consecutively. Because these standard license plates are of a permanent nature, they are subject to replacement by the department only when the physical condition of the license plates requires it and a year number may not be displayed on the plates.

(7) For the purpose of this chapter, the several counties of the state are assigned numbers as follows: Silver Bow, 1; Cascade, 2; Yellowstone, 3; Missoula, 4; Lewis and Clark, 5; Gallatin, 6; Flathead, 7; Fergus, 8; Powder River, 9; Carbon, 10; Phillips, 11; Hill, 12; Ravalli, 13; Custer, 14; Lake, 15; Dawson, 16; Roosevelt, 17; Beaverhead, 18; Chouteau, 19; Valley, 20; Toole, 21; Big Horn, 22; Musselshell, 23; Blaine, 24; Madison, 25; Pondera, 26; Richland, 27; Powell, 28; Rosebud, 29; Deer Lodge, 30; Teton, 31; Stillwater, 32; Treasure, 33; Sheridan, 34; Sanders, 35; Judith Basin, 36; Daniels, 37; Glacier, 38; Fallon, 39; Sweet Grass, 40; McCone, 41; Carter, 42; Broadwater, 43; Wheatland, 44; Prairie, 45; Granite, 46; Meagher, 47; Liberty, 48; Park, 49; Garfield, 50; Jefferson, 51; Wibaux, 52; Golden Valley, 53; Mineral, 54; Petroleum, 55; Lincoln, 56.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 8, 2011

Any new counties must be assigned numbers by the department as they are formed, beginning with the number 57.

(8) Each type of special license plate approved by the legislature, except collegiate license plates authorized in 61-3-463 and generic specialty license plates authorized in 61-3-472 through 61-3-481, must be a separate series of plates, numbered as provided in subsection (5), except that the county number must be replaced by a design that distinguishes each separate plate series. Unless otherwise specifically stated in this section, the special plates are subject to the same rules and laws as govern the issuance of standard license plates, must be placed or mounted on a motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, or pole trailer owned by the person who is eligible to receive them, with the registration decal affixed to the rear license plate of the motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, or pole trailer, and must be removed upon sale or other disposition of the motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, or pole trailer.

(9) (a) A Montana resident who is eligible to receive a special parking permit under 49-4-301 may and a low-speed electric vehicle or golf cart operated by a person with a low-speed restricted driver's license as provided in [section 2] must, upon written application on a form prescribed by the department, be issued a special license plate with a design or decal bearing a representation of a wheelchair as the symbol of a person with a disability.

(b) If the motor vehicle to which the license plate is attached is permanently registered, the owner of the motor vehicle shall provide, upon request of a person authorized to enforce special parking laws or ordinances in this or any state, evidence of continued eligibility to use the license plate in the form of a valid special parking permit issued to or renewed by the vehicle owner under 49-4-304 and 49-4-305.

(c) A person with a permanent condition, as provided in 49-4-301(2)(b), who has been issued a special license plate upon written application, as provided in this subsection (9), is not required to reapply upon reregistration of the motor vehicle.

(10) The provisions of this section do not apply to a motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, or pole trailer that is registered as part of a fleet, as defined in 61-3-712, and that is subject to the provisions of 61-3-711 through 61-3-733."

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 10, 2011

President Peterson recognized the Honorable Justices of the Montana Supreme Court: Justice Patricia Cotter, Justice Beth Baker, Justice Brian Morris, Justice James A. Rice, Jr and Justice Mike Wheat; as well as, the Honorable Clerk of the Montana Supreme Court, Ed Smith.

President Peterson introduced the Honorable Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Montana, Mike McGrath.

Chief Justice McGrath made the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Members of the Court, Honored Guests, Members of this Joint Assembly:

Thank you for giving me this opportunity. It is indeed an honor to be here speaking on behalf of Montana's Judiciary.

It is very gracious of you, and appropriate I might add, to provide this opportunity to both the Executive and Judicial Branches of Montana's government.

In Montana, our courts process 1,000 cases each day , 365,000 per year. That, of course, includes all matters, including misdemeanors. But it adds up to one case for every three Montana residents.

At 1,000 cases per day, our courts are busy and, in our larger communities, the workload for court employees is very heavy.

Many people come to court because their lives are in crisis. They include victims of crime, and people charged with crimes, children suffering from child abuse, ranchers who can't irrigate because of a water dispute, businesses being wrongfully sued by disgruntled employees, workers injured on the job, neighbors fighting over disputed property boundaries, entrepreneurs challenging the government's interpretation of legislation and mothers seeking child support to buy diapers.

They come because they know they have rights. They know that there are laws that will protect them. They know they will get an answer to their problem.

And they know they will be treated fairly, by an independent judge--not a person beholden to money interests or partisanship or social status. Rather, a judge who will listen to their grievance and make a decision based on the merits of each individual case.

If you listen to the grievances being expressed by the demonstrators in the Middle East these past few weeks--what you hear--they want what we have. They want a right to be heard by their government. They want to be governed by the rule of law and not by fiat as determined by despotic rulers and autocratic administrations.

Our founders developed a system that has become the blueprint for political and economic success for the modern world.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 10, 2011

In the words of historian Joseph Ellis, American success is: "about the triumph of representative government bottomed on the principle of popular sovereignty, a market economy fueled by the energies of our citizens, a secular state unaffiliated with any official religion, and the rule of law that presumes the equality of all."

What our founders knew was that if this republic they had created was going to succeed, it had to be based upon the rule of law, and that rule of law requires an independent and impartial manner of resolving disputes--be they commercial matters, family crises, criminal charges or removal of public officers. And as Ronald Reagan said: "our heritage of individual liberty is dependent on the rule of law."

And the system works!

Speaking to the Supreme Court in 1982, President Reagan, after noting that he occasionally disagreed with some of their decisions, stated:

"I know that the Supreme Court of the United States is the only group . . . in history that has exercised significant authority over such a long period of time without having need for battalions of fighting men to enforce their decisions It's a healthy reflection of the fact that the vast majority of our citizens respect and abide by the decisions of the judiciary as a matter of course."

Ted Olson served as the U.S. Solicitor General in a Republican Administration. His wife was killed on 9/11.

Some of you have heard me quote his remarks, written in The Wall Street Journal, before, but I think it is worth the repetition:

"Every day, thousands and thousands of judges--jurists whose names we never hear, from our highest court to our most local tribunal--resolve controversies, render justice, and help keep the peace by providing a safe, reliable, efficient and honest dispute resolution process. The pay is modest, the work is frequently quite challenging, and the outcome often controversial. For every winner in these cases, there is a loser. Many disputes are close calls, and the judge's decision is bound to be unpopular with someone.

But in this country we accept the decisions of judges, even when we disagree on the merits, because the process itself is vastly more important than any individual decision. Our courts are essential to an orderly, lawful society. And a robust and productive economy depends upon a consistent, predictable, evenhanded, and respected rule of law. . . . Americans understand that no system is perfect and no judge immune from error, but also that our society would crumble if we did not respect the judicial process."

The Judiciary in Montana understands that we have the responsibility described by the President and strive daily to ensure that we uphold these traditions.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 10, 2011

Those 1,000 people per day that end up in our courts know that our Justice System is based on the rule of law and not individual whim. Our disputes are resolved within an orderly system that provides all parties the opportunity to be heard, and is based upon law.

In fact, our economy depends on this independent system. Investors and other businesses have the right to rely on an orderly and prompt dispute resolution process. They have the freedom to enter contracts and the ability to have those contracts enforced. They know that even in the most remote courthouse in Montana, they will get a fair hearing and a timely decision.

Furthermore, individual citizens have the rights enunciated in our Constitution and the ability to enforce those rights whether they are in Libby or Terry, Billings or Butte.

And all of us have the right to expect the courts to make those decisions based on the merits of each individual case--by judges independent of bias, prejudice or political influence.

As an independent third branch of government, our responsibilities are great but our needs are small.

Our budget is less than two percent of the general fund. Yet we recognize that with judicial independence comes the corresponding responsibility, to be accountable: Accountable to the people who elect us, and; Accountable to the Legislature, especially as to how we spend public funds.

In an effort to be more accountable, the Judicial Branch has undertaken a series of performance measures. At the Supreme Court, a number of new case processing measures have been implemented.

Last session, I told you that the Court is very much aware of concerns about backlogged cases. Significant improvements have been made—I can now tell you that our caseload is current. We have no cases over a year old and our average time to resolve a case is less than 100 days. And, because we are current, we were able to shift personnel from the Supreme Court to our most crowded District Courts in Gallatin and Cascade counties.

District Court performance standards are now being developed. Surveys of court users are completed and formulas have been adapted to accurately measure case loads and case timeliness. The efforts you made last session to add 3 District Court Judges in Yellowstone, Flathead and Lewis and Clark counties are just beginning to show improvement. The people in those communities and the Judicial Branch thank you for that assistance.

Also last session, we experienced significant budget reductions—including vacancy savings and across-the-board cuts. Plus, at the request of the executive branch, we reduced our appropriated budget by a significant amount. Our branch consists of 54 independently elected officials, 46 of whom are elected from their local community. As the vast majority of our budget consists of personnel costs, it is hard to find additional areas to cut.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 10, 2011

We have done a good job of managing our resources; we have found the waste. Additional budget reductions will fall on the backs of the overworked local judiciary and inevitably result in delay and court backlogs. Of course the losers under that scenario are your constituents, especially small business and working people.

We have learned that backlogged courts are bad for business. We are trying hard to remedy that problem. However, we do have ways that the Judiciary can help with future budgets.

Drug courts and Treatment courts in general can and do save taxpayer dollars. And the last two sessions, Legislators had the foresight to fund a small portion of these programs.

Not long ago 50 percent of the children in foster care were there because of their parents' use of drugs--methamphetamine in particular.

An incredibly high percentage--up to 90 percent--of prison inmates (both male and female) are incarcerated with chemical dependency problems--as many as half for meth. And, of course, many of our prisoners have severe mental illness problems.

All of these social problems cause a tremendous drain on state and local government budgets. That is why the new governor of Georgia announced, in his inaugural address last month, that he was proposing increased funding for drug courts as a cost-saving measure.

Treatment courts divert some of these people to less expensive and more effective alternatives. They can keep kids out of Pine Hills or even more expensive out-of-state placements.

They divert new commitments from our state prisons to less expensive alternatives in the community.

Drug courts reunite shattered families and turn participants into productive members of society.

Recently, we issued a report that catalogs the success of Montana's drug courts. Some of the highlights include:

The re-offense rates for those participants that had been discharged for 2 years or more are remarkable, only 1.2% were arrested for a felony, and only 10.5% committed misdemeanors. That means that only 10 percent committed as much as a misdemeanor, a significant drop in recidivism.

Adult Drug Court graduates had a 17.6 percent increase in employment during the program, Family Drug Court graduates had an incredible 61.8 percent increase in employment.

One more:

In two and one-half years, 20 participants were pregnant--14 gave birth while in the program, 12 or those babies were born drug free--an immense saving of taxpayer dollars.

Many of our judges in Montana are committed to addressing these problems in their communities--problems they see every day.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 10, 2011

Treatment courts are a strain on judges' time and energy. However, they are very rewarding as well. They do see good things happen in a courtroom--not a common occurrence in our courts.

Nationally, it has been proven that Treatment courts are by far the most effective thing we can do to address drug abuse and the problems that go with it.

We also propose to continue our Court Help Program, to assist individual Montana citizens with court service areas, places where you can get proper forms and assistance with the court process without unnecessary expense. Not all legal matters need attorneys. There are many ways we can simplify the process and provide people with helpful solutions.

Most people cannot afford an attorney--so they come to court without. Fully 30 percent of our Court's cases are presented with at least one party not represented by an attorney. In Flathead, it's 80 percent of the domestic relations cases.

These cases tend to be very messy, These cases are time consuming, These cases are very frustrating--not only for the Judge but the parties themselves.

This program provides some direction--some explanation of how to navigate through the process, It does not offer legal advice.

Since the program began, our two full-time centers in Kalispell and Billings have assisted 12,000 individuals and small businesses navigate through the complexity of our court system. We do this with volunteers who are recruited and trained by the limited staff that we have. Because our tiny budget is leveraged by volunteer labor, this program operates in 24 counties--all across our state.

This program does significantly increase judicial efficiency and it does reduce court backlog.

Finally, we hope to be able to introduce some new efficiencies at the Water Court thanks to suggestions from the Legislative Audit Committee. Started in 1979, the task is to quantify every water right, in every drainage, in the state of Montana--all 220,000 claims--a monumental task. We are working with Representative McNutt and Senator Wanzon on a proposal that will be coming your way soon.

The way our citizens approach the court system is changing dramatically; clearly our courts must adapt to these changing times.

Thanks to you, last session, for providing some funding for these important programs. I hope they will be able to continue. We believe our proposals will help to ensure that the small business owner, the man injured through no fault of his own, the mom, the defendant wrongly accused, and the child crying in the crib get their opportunity to resolve their crises. We also hope that by making the court system more efficient and responsive to the public's needs, we can avoid coming to you in a future session asking for more Judges.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 10, 2011

While I have been Chief Justice for only a short period of time, I have enjoyed the experience immensely. I thank the people of Montana for giving me this opportunity.

Thank you again for inviting me to speak with you today.

I know all of you have a lot to do in the next 57 days!

Good luck this Session!

President Peterson thanked Chief Justice McGrath and requested that the committee of four approach the rostrum to escort the Chief Justice and Justices of the Supreme Court from the Chamber.

Senator Essmann moved that the joint session be adjourned. Motion carried.

House Recessed.

House Reconvened.

Representative Sesso announced that former Senator J.D. Lynch's wife passed away today. The House had a moment of silence.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-FOURTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 11, 2011

Senator Tester make the following remarks:

President Peterson, Speaker Milburn, legislators, honored guests, people of Montana: It's great to be here. It's great to be back in Montana's "Peoples' House" to share a few words with you.

Usually when I recognize folks, I like to have them stand. This time, I'd like to do something a little different. I'm going to ask that if you are a veteran, please remain seated. Everyone else, please rise if you can. Let us stand and honor Montana's veterans. I also want to acknowledge my friend, Lieutenant Governor John Bohlinger, here today. John, now I'm going to ask you to stand. Thanks not only for your service as a Marine, but also for your service to the state of Montana. Every day you remind us that it's possible to reach across party lines, find common ground, and work together. You are a statesman. Thank you.

Last week, a reporter asked me an interesting question. He asked who my best friend in Congress is. I thought about it for a bit. My best friend in Congress is my best friend in life. Sharla Tester. She is my partner in serving Montana, in running our family farm, in raising our children, and in loving our grandchildren. Sharla can't be here today, but a lot of my family is. My daughter, Christine, and her husband, James, are here. Melodie and her husband, Glenn. And our grandkids: Kilikina, Brayden and Tucker.

Senator Keane, where are you? I was sorry to hear Senate Bill 6 got tabled in committee. Under Senator Keane's bill, anyone who uses PowerPoint in committee would have had to fork over fifty to a hundred bucks into a special fund depending on the length. I'd love to see the fiscal note on that one.

There are very serious challenges ahead: Passing a budget that works for Montana, its small businesses, its working families, its family farms and ranches. A budget that creates jobs. A budget that creates an environment that allows our kids and grandkids to be competitive and successful. Every decision you make has an impact on your neighbors. My neighbors. Your communities. And all communities across Montana.

You know what? Montana is blessed with our citizen legislature. It's one of the many things that make Montana the best state in the best nation, in the world. I was proud and honored to serve here. And I thank you for being part of it, too.

Montana is also blessed with an strong small business spirit. I've seen it firsthand as I travel back to this state every weekend, visiting every county. I see that spirit in folks like Kim Ormsby, founder of the Natural Baby Company in Bozeman. What started as a great idea - selling cheaper, environmentally friendly baby products online - has turned into a booming brick-and-mortar business. Kim Ormsby is a Montana success story. And she's creating jobs. In Red Lodge, Keith Lauver is just starting a business called The Healthy Pantry. He takes Montana ag commodities. And, on a stove in a building on Main Street, he turns them into meals that are easy to prepare at home. The Healthy Pantry isn't just making good food. It's putting folks back to work. And there's the Stillwater Mining Company, where hundreds of Montanans work together - union labor and management - to get platinum and palladium to the market. Stillwater is "Made in America." It's a gem in our Treasure State that we can all be proud of. From metals and minerals to coal and oil and natural gas, Montana is rich in natural resources. We've got trees and biomass. Wind and solar and geothermal energy. Our resources include the animals we raise and eat and the ground where we raise our crops. Ladies and gentlemen, in Montana, we've got the lumber. We've got the hardware. What we need from you is a smart - and I emphasize smart - budget plan to create jobs and keep our Montana economy strong. A plan that strengthens and maintains a business-friendly environment. One that invests in our workers. And our kids. And their education. And allows them to do whatever they dream to do. A budget plan that maintains the physical infrastructure we need to keep our rural state in fighting shape. With our national economy on the rebound, we can't afford to go backwards. Montana has handled this recession better than any state. And we need to make sure we continue the trend.

Montanans sent me to the United States Senate to work hard. They sent you to Helena to work hard. To make Montana and America better for our kids and grandkids. Not to sit around complaining. Not to re-hash old problems or create new ones. It's our job to do our work with respect for one another, finding the common ground that unites us. And working from that common ground. We may be Democrats. And we may be Republicans. But we're Americans and Montanans first. We all have a unique challenge. Because whether home is Billings or Big Sandy, we have this in common: all of us live in rural America.

One of my biggest challenges back in the Senate is getting folks to understand what rural America really means. To them, rural America is the area between Washington, D.C. and Baltimore. For us, it's a way of life. We share a heritage rich in agriculture. I'm proud of the fact I'm the only member of the U.S. Senate and the only member of Montana's delegation who still runs a family farm. It's an important perspective to bring to the table. In rural America, we have a rich outdoor heritage. For the next two years, I have the honor of serving as chairman of the Congressional Sportsman's Caucus. My role: to keep fighting for - and strengthening - our gun rights. Standing up for access to public lands. And public water. Of course, getting wolves back off the Endangered Species List. And returning their management to the State of Montana-to the professionals who know how to do it best. I'm doing everything I can to pass wolf legislation through Congress. Because we need a solution for wolves. And we need it now. I introduced a bill yesterday that delists wolves. It returns us back to Montana's management plan, which was working just fine. The bottom line is, we need to start hunting - and managing - wolves now. That's why last week, I called for a controlled wolf hunt in Montana. The Interior Department is expediting that request. And I will keep their feet to the fire until they approve that hunt. It's a good step. But it's exactly the reason we need to delist wolves. Montana has responsibly managed wolves. And we shouldn't have to ask the federal government for a hunt. Until wolves are delisted - and Montana is back in charge - I'll do everything I can to push the feds to work with us. To let Montana aggressively manage wolves.

In addition to our outdoor heritage, Montana and rural America have a proud tradition of military service. Our state is home to 103,000 veterans. More are coming home every day. Many with injuries seen... and unseen. In December, I had the honor of visiting Lance Corporal Tomy Parker in his hospital room in Bethesda. Tomy is from Ronan. He lost both legs and part of his hand while serving our country in Afghanistan. As big as his losses are, the only thing bigger is his incredible positive attitude. And the love of his family. We needed Lance Corporal Parker. And now, Tomy needs us. Our veterans and servicemen and women have fought and fight for our freedom and liberty every day.

THIRTY-FOURTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 11, 2011

So let me be clear: we've got a lot of challenges ahead when it comes to cutting spending and cutting our debt. But we cannot afford to do it by cutting benefits from America's veterans. I was struck by what the national commander of the VFW said the other day. It was a response to a controversial proposal to cut $4-and-a-half billion in veterans' benefits. He said, and I quote, "The day this nation can't afford to take care of her veterans is the day this nation should quit creating them." Montana is blessed with our heritage of military service.

In rural America, we've got to strengthen what we're blessed with. Because rural America fights for this country. Feeds this country. And fuels this country. Like many of your relatives, my grandparents came to Montana with almost nothing. They had to rely on their own hard work. They had to work together with their neighbors to survive. And they had to live within their means. You know what? They made it work. My grandparents - and my parents - knew the value of a dollar. I know the value of hard work and the value of a dollar. Those are Montana values. We can be proud of Montana's Constitutional requirement to balance the budget. That darned good leadership over the past few years has made Montana one of the few states in the nation still operating in the black. A decade ago, during the Clinton Administration, this country ran a surplus. It is possible. But over the past 10 years, some in Congress made some pretty bad choices. And it turned our economy upside down. Instead of gimmicks that cost us jobs, hurt education, and weaken our infrastructure, we need to take real steps toward cutting our deficit and balancing our budget. It's not going to happen overnight. It's going to take a credible, long-term strategy.

So, what is real? Last year, I cut $6 billion in spending from the unemployment insurance law. I killed the Animal ID program, which was wasting millions of your tax dollars I voted-twice-to make sure Congress didn't get a pay raise. And just last month, I introduced a bill ending automatic pay raises for members of Congress forever. This week, Tom Coburn - a conservative Republican from Oklahoma - and I teamed up and introduced a bill to make sure hardworking taxpayers don't have to write unemployment checks for millionaires. That's just common sense. And it shows that one party doesn't have all the good ideas. You just have to be willing to work together to cut spending and cut our debt. And as the only Senate Democrat to vote against both bailouts, I will tell you I will always vote against bailouts.

As for that credible, long-term strategy? I supported creating a bipartisan panel to recommend a path forward... to cut our debt and cut spending. I read their plan. I don't agree with everything in it. But I support the idea behind these recommendations. We need to cut the waste, fraud and abuse in our entitlement programs. We need to make sure they work for the 21st Century. We need to take a look at our tax code, to make sure it works for middle class families. And to make sure nobody side-steps the system. That's what it's going to take to really cut our debt and cut spending. Not gimmicks. It won't be easy. In fact, it will be pretty darned difficult. We're going to have to make some tough choices in the weeks, months and years ahead. Every expenditure - whether it's a government program or a tax earmark - has a network of people supporting it. For that reason, balancing the books will be a challenge. But that doesn't mean it can't be done. It has to be done. And it can be done... without costing us jobs. The key is: no one is excused from sharing in the sacrifice. Not the folks who live in the big cities. Nor the folks with Swiss bank accounts. Nor Wall Street Banks or K Street lobbyists. Nor insurance giants or multinational corporations that send American jobs overseas - and can now secretly fund our political campaigns. Everybody has to feel a little pain. But that doesn't mean we take a battle axe to the very things that are creating jobs and building our economy. Or backpedal on our commitment to veterans. Think turning public education upside down creates jobs and a business friendly environment? In this competitive world, it would only take us backwards. And it will shift the tax burden onto local property taxpayers. Does slashing our basic infrastructure, like safe roads and drinking water and electrical transmission lines help businesses create jobs? Or saying 'tough luck' to our law enforcement officers and firefighters? Or gutting access to quality, affordable health care? That kind of governing will land us right back in the ditch. And it will not create jobs. We create jobs by investing in education and infrastructure and in health and public safety.

That's why I'm proud of my vote for the Recovery Act. A bill that put thousands - let me repeat, thousands - of Montanans to work. It cut taxes for every Montanan - to the tune of a half-billion dollars. And it jump-started the infrastructure we need to create jobs. Every region in Montana has a school, a road, a public works system that has been improved and revitalized because of the Recovery Act. The Recovery Act is building the North Central Regional Water System, which will provide clean drinking water to tens of thousands of Montanans. It allowed crews to finish one of our state's fastest-growing business corridors-Shiloh Road in Billings. It launched a critical revolving loan fund to keep Montana's timber industry on its feet - in a time of really tight capital. I know Cary Hegreberg and my friends at the Montana Contractors Association have done a great job in taking advantage of the Recovery Act - and putting Montanans to work. I want to thank them. And most importantly, the Recovery Act pulled our nation away from the ledge of a catastrophic depression. That's what I call, successful stimulus. The only thing failed about it... was a vote against it.

Remember this: it is our patriotic responsibility as Americans to govern and budget carefully. It is patriotic for a business to go the extra mile needed to create jobs here in America. Off-shoring jobs may save you a few bucks, but none of us can afford to cut American workers out of the picture. Invest in jobs here, and you invest in your community. And your country. The Natural Baby Company is doing it. The Healthy Pantry, and the Stillwater Mine are doing it. A whole bunch of Montana businesses are doing it. Montanans should demand support for Montana jobs from their political leaders. And we all should demand it from our businesses. As we have this debate, we also can't let Montana and rural America shoulder more than our share of the sacrifice. That's all the more reason I need to keep fighting for the priorities of rural America in the US Senate.

I will never give up on Montana. I will never give up on our family farms and ranches. Or our schools and small businesses. Or our veterans. Our human infrastructure is too valuable to let go by the wayside. Letting our roads fall apart or letting our best teachers go somewhere else will cost us jobs. It will cost us opportunity. We can't afford to take a back seat to anyone. Despite the differences we may have in this room, we are all Montanans. And we're all lucky to call this state home. I'm bullish on Montana. In fact, I can't think of a single reason not to be.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-FOURTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 11, 2011

We've got the people. We've got the resources. And like the generations before us, we've got opportunity for the taking. Later this month, on February 23rd, I'm hosting my sixth Small Business Opportunity Workshop. This one will be in Missoula. And I invite every Montanan to attend. You don't have to be a Democrat or a Republican to take part. The idea is to work together to build Montana, to create jobs and take advantage of every opportunity possible. Montanans aren't afraid to work hard or make tough decisions. Working together, we'll build up our state. We'll create jobs. And we'll move forward, not backward. We can do it while empowering small businesses, family farms and ranches, working families. We can do it without ignoring the needs of the physical and human infrastructure we need to stay competitive. We can do it by investing in K-through-12 education, and our university system.

Good luck in the weeks ahead. God Bless.

President Peterson requested that the committee of four escort Senator Tester from the joint session.

Senator Essmann moved that the joint session be adjourned. Motion carried.

(3) An applicant may:

(a) purchase only one preference point per license year; and

(b) purchase a preference point without applying for a Class B-10 or Class B-11 license.

An applicant not applying for a Class B-10 or Class B-11 license may purchase a preference point only between July 1 and September 30 prior to the applicable license year. The department shall delete an applicant's accumulated preference points if the applicant does not apply for a Class B-

10 or Class B-11 license for 2 consecutive years.

(4) Except as provided in subsection (3)(b), the department may not delete an applicant's accumulated preference points unless the applicant obtains the license applied for, in which case the department shall delete the applicant's accumulated preference points.

(5) The department shall issue 75% of the Class B-10 and Class B-11 licenses made available for purchase pursuant to 87-2-505 and 87-2-510 by drawings in which the licenses are awarded to applicants in the order of which applicants have purchased the greatest number of

(6) The department shall issue 25% of the Class B-10 and Class B-11 licenses made available for purchase pursuant to 87-2-505 and 87-2-510 by drawings in which the licenses are awarded to applicants who have not purchased any preference points. If the number of licenses to be issued under this subsection exceeds the number of applicants who have not purchased preference points, the remaining licenses must be added to the licenses issued pursuant to subsection (5).

(7) Up to five applicants may apply as a party under this section. The department shall use an average of the number of preference points accumulated by those applicants to determine their priority in receiving licenses issued pursuant to subsection (5). The department shall consider any fraction that results from the calculation of an average when determining that priority."

(1) conviction, including conviction following a plea of nolo contendere, of a crime relating to or committed during the course of the person's practice or involving violence, use or sale of drugs, fraud, deceit, or theft, whether or not an appeal is pending;

(2) permitting, aiding, abetting, or conspiring with a person to violate or circumvent a law relating to licensure or certification;

(3) fraud, misrepresentation, deception, or concealment of a material fact in applying for or assisting in securing a license or license renewal or in taking an examination required for licensure;

(4) signing or issuing, in the licensee's professional capacity, a document or statement that the licensee knows or reasonably ought to know contains a false or misleading statement;

(5) a misleading, deceptive, false, or fraudulent advertisement or other representation in the conduct of the profession or occupation;

(6) offering, giving, or promising anything of value or benefit to a federal, state, or local government employee or official for the purpose of influencing the employee or official to circumvent a federal, state, or local law, rule, or ordinance governing the licensee's profession or occupation;

(7) denial, suspension, revocation, probation, fine, or other license restriction or discipline against a licensee by a state, province, territory, or Indian tribal government or the federal government if the action is not on appeal, under judicial review, or has been satisfied;

(8) failure to comply with a term, condition, or limitation of a license by final order of a board;

(9) revealing confidential information obtained as the result of a professional relationship without the prior consent of the recipient of services, except as authorized or required by law;

(10) use of alcohol, a habit-forming drug, or a controlled substance as defined in Title 50, chapter 32, to the extent that the use impairs the user physically or mentally in the performance of licensed professional duties;

(11) having a physical or mental disability that renders the licensee or license applicant unable to practice the profession or occupation with reasonable skill and safety;

(12) engaging in conduct in the course of one's practice while suffering from a contagious or infectious disease involving serious risk to public health or without taking adequate precautions, including but not limited to informed consent, protective gear, or cessation of practice;

(13) misappropriating property or funds from a client or workplace or failing to comply with a board rule regarding the accounting and distribution of a client's property or funds;

(14) interference with an investigation or disciplinary proceeding by willful misrepresentation of facts, by the use of threats or harassment against or inducement to a client or witness to prevent them from providing evidence in a disciplinary proceeding or other legal action, or by use of threats or harassment against or inducement to a person to prevent or attempt to prevent a disciplinary proceeding or other legal action from being filed, prosecuted, or completed;

(15) assisting in the unlicensed practice of a profession or occupation or allowing another person or organization to practice or offer to practice by use of the licensee's license;

(16) failing to report the institution of or final action on a malpractice action, including a final decision on appeal, against the licensee or of an action against the licensee by a:

(a) peer review committee;

(b) professional association; or

(c) local, state, federal, territorial, provincial, or Indian tribal government;

(17) failure of a health care provider, as defined in 27-6-103, to comply with a policy or practice implementing 28-10-103(3)(a);

(18) conduct that does not meet the generally accepted standards of practice. A certified copy of a malpractice judgment against the licensee or license applicant or of a tort judgment in an action involving an act or omission occurring during the scope and course of the practice is conclusive evidence of but is not needed to prove conduct that does not meet generally accepted standards;

(19) the sole use of any electronic means, including teleconferencing, to obtain the information required for the physician affidavit that would be used to petition a court for authorization for the medical use of marijuana as provided in Title 50, chapter 46."

"13-27-202. Recommendations -- approval of form required. (1) A proponent of a ballot issue shall submit the text of the proposed ballot issue to the secretary of state together with draft ballot issue statements intended to comply with 13-27-312. Petitions may not be circulated for the purpose of signature gathering more than 1 year prior to the final date for filing the signed petition with the county election administrator. The secretary of state shall forward a copy of the text of the proposed issue and statements to the legislative services division for review.

(2) (a) The legislative services division staff shall review the text and statements for clarity, consistency, and conformity with the most recent edition of the bill drafting manual furnished by the legislative services division, the requirements of 13-27-312, and any other factors that the staff considers when drafting proposed legislation.

(b) Within 14 days after submission of the text and statements, the legislative services division staff shall recommend in writing to the proponent revisions to the text and revisions to the statements to make them consistent with any recommendations for change to the text and the requirements of 13-27-312 or state that no revisions are recommended.

(c) The proponent shall consider the recommendations and respond in writing to the legislative services division, accepting, rejecting, or modifying each of the recommended revisions. If revisions are not recommended, a response is not required.

(3) The legislative services division shall furnish a copy of the correspondence provided for in subsection (2) to the secretary of state, who shall make a copy of the correspondence available to any person upon request.

(4) Before a petition may be circulated for signatures, the final text of the proposed issue and ballot statements must be submitted to the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall reject the proposed issue if the text or a ballot statement contains material not submitted to the legislative services division that is a substantive change not recommended by the legislative services division. If accepted, the secretary of state shall refer a copy of the proposed issue and statements to the attorney general for a determination as to the legal sufficiency of the issue and for approval of the petitioner's ballot statements and for a determination pursuant to 13-27-312 as to whether a fiscal note is necessary.

(5) (a) The secretary of state shall review the legal sufficiency opinion and ballot statements of the petitioner, as approved by the attorney general and received pursuant to 13-27-312.

(b) If the attorney general approves the proposed issue, the secretary of state shall immediately send to the person submitting the proposed issue a sample petition form, including the text of the proposed issue, the statement of purpose and implication, and the for and against statements ~~of implication~~, as prepared by the petitioner, reviewed by the legislative services division, and approved by the attorney general and in the form provided by this part. A signature gatherer may circulate the petition only in the form of the sample prepared by the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall immediately provide a copy of the sample petition form to any interested parties who have made a request to be informed of an approved petition.

(c) If the attorney general rejects the proposed issue, the secretary of state shall send written notice to the person who submitted the proposed issue of the rejection, including the attorney general's legal sufficiency opinion.

(d) If an action is filed challenging the validity of the petition, the secretary of state shall immediately notify the person who submitted the proposed issue."

PETITION TO PLACE INITIATIVE NO. _____
ON THE ELECTION BALLOT

(a) If 5% of the voters in each of one-half of the counties sign this petition and the total number of voters signing this petition is _____, this initiative will appear on the next general election ballot. If a majority of voters vote for this initiative at that election, it will become law.

(b) We, the undersigned Montana voters, propose that the secretary of state place the following initiative on the _____, 20____, general election ballot:

(Title of initiative written pursuant to 13-27-312)

(Statement of purpose and implication written pursuant to 13-27-312)

(For and against statements written pursuant to 13-27-312)

(c) Voters are urged to read the complete text of the initiative, which appears (on the reverse side of, attached to, etc., as applicable) this sheet. A signature on this petition is only to put the initiative on the ballot and does not necessarily mean the signer agrees with the initiative.

PETITION TO PLACE REFERENDUM NO. ____
ON THE ELECTION BALLOT

(a) If 5% of the voters in each of 34 legislative representative districts sign this petition and the total number of voters signing the petition is ____, Senate (House) Bill Number ____ will appear on the next general election ballot. If a majority of voters vote for this referendum at that election it will become law.

(b) We, the undersigned Montana voters, propose that the secretary of state place the following Senate (House) Bill Number ____, passed by the legislature on _____ on the next general election ballot:

(Title of referendum written pursuant to 13-27-312)
(Statement of purpose and implication written pursuant to 13-27-312)
(For and against statements written pursuant to 13-27-312)

(c) Voters are urged to read the complete text of the referendum, which appears (on the reverse side of, attached to, etc., as applicable) this sheet. A signature on this petition is only to put the referendum on the ballot and does not necessarily mean the signer agrees with the referendum.

A person who purposefully signs a name other than the person's own to this petition, who signs more than once for the same issue at one election, or signs when not a legally registered Montana voter is subject to a $500 fine, 6 months in jail, or both.

(e) Each person is required to sign the person's name and list the person's address or telephone number in substantially the same manner as on the person's voter registration card or the signature will not be counted.

(2) Numbered lines must follow the heading. Each numbered line must contain spaces for the signature, date, residence address, legislative representative district number, and printed last name and first and middle initials of the signer. In place of a residence address, the signer may provide the signer's post-office address or the signer's home telephone number. An address provided on a petition by the signer that differs from the signer's address as shown on the signer's voter registration card may not be used as the only means to disqualify the signature of that petition signer."

PETITION TO PLACE
INITIATIVE NO.____, CALLING FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION, ON THE ELECTION BALLOT

(a) If 10% of the voters in each of 40 legislative districts sign this petition and the total number of voters signing this petition is _____, the question of whether to have a constitutional convention will appear on the next general election ballot. If a majority of voters vote for the constitutional convention, the legislature shall call for a constitutional convention at its next session.

(b) We, the undersigned Montana voters, propose that the secretary of state place the question of whether to hold a constitutional convention on the _____, 20____, general election ballot:

(Title of the initiative written pursuant to 13-27-312)

(Statement of purpose and implication written pursuant to 13-27-312)

(For and against statements written pursuant to 13-27-312)

(c) A signature on this petition is only to put the call for a constitutional convention on the ballot and does not necessarily mean the signer is in favor of calling a constitutional convention.

"13-27-312. Review of proposed ballot issue and statements by attorney general -- preparation of fiscal note. (1) Upon receipt of a proposed ballot issue and statements from the office of the secretary of state pursuant to 13-27-202, the attorney general shall examine the proposed ballot issue for legal sufficiency as provided in this section and shall determine whether the ballot statements comply with the requirements of this section.

(2) The attorney general shall, in reviewing the ballot statements, endeavor to seek out parties on both sides of the issue and obtain their advice. The attorney general shall review the ballot statements to determine if they contain the following matters:

(a) a statement of purpose and implication, not to exceed ~~400~~ 135 words, explaining the purpose and implication of the issue; and

(b) ~~statements, not to exceed 25 words each, explaining the implications of a vote for and a vote against the issue~~ for and against statements in the form prescribed in subsection (6).

(3) If the proposed ballot issue has an effect on the revenue, expenditures, or fiscal liability of the state, the attorney general shall order a fiscal note incorporating an estimate of the effect, the substance of which must substantially comply with the provisions of 5-4-205. The budget director, in cooperation with the agency or agencies affected by the ballot issue, is responsible for preparing the fiscal note and shall return it to the attorney general within 10 days. If the fiscal note indicates a fiscal impact, the attorney general shall prepare a fiscal statement of no more than 50 words, and the statement must be used on the petition and ballot if the issue is placed on the ballot.

(4) The ballot statements must express the true and impartial explanation of the proposed ballot issue in plain, easily understood language and may not be arguments or written so as to create prejudice for or against the issue.

(5) Unless altered by the court under 13-27-316, the statement of purpose and implication is the petition title for the issue circulated by the petition and the ballot title if the issue is placed on the ballot.

(6) The ~~statements of implication for and against statements~~ must be written so that a positive vote indicates support for the issue and a negative vote indicates opposition to the issue and must be placed beside the diagram provided for marking of the ballot in a manner similar to ~~but not limited to~~ the following example:

☐ FOR ~~extending the right to vote to persons 18 years of age~~ (insert the type of ballot issue and its number)

☐ AGAINST ~~extending the right to vote to persons 18 years of age~~ (insert the type of ballot issue and its number)

(7) The attorney general shall review the proposed ballot issue for legal sufficiency. As used in this part, "legal sufficiency" means that the petition complies with statutory and constitutional requirements governing submission of the proposed issue to the electors. Review of the petition for legal sufficiency does not include consideration of the substantive legality of the issue if approved by the voters. The attorney general shall also determine if the proposed issue conflicts with one or more issues that may appear on the ballot at the same election.

(8) (a) Within 30 days after receipt of the proposed issue from the secretary of state, the attorney general shall forward to the secretary of state an opinion as to the issue's legal sufficiency.

(b) If the attorney general determines that the proposed ballot issue is legally sufficient, the attorney general shall also forward to the secretary of state the petitioner's ballot statements that comply with the requirements of this section. If the attorney general determines in writing that a ballot statement clearly does not comply with the requirements of this section, the attorney general shall prepare a statement that complies with the requirements of this section, forward that statement to the secretary of state as the approved statement, and provide a copy to the petitioner. The attorney general shall give the secretary of state notice of whether the proposed issue conflicts with one or more issues that may appear on the ballot at the same election.

(c) If the attorney general determines that the proposed ballot issue is not legally sufficient, the secretary of state may not deliver a sample petition form unless the attorney general's opinion is overruled pursuant to 13-27-316 and the attorney general has approved or prepared ballot statements under this section."

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 16, 2011

Senator Essmann moved that the body resolve itself into a joint session for the purpose of receiving the State of Education address by Superintendent of Public Instruction, Denise Juneau. Motion carried.

Senator Essmann moved that the President be authorized to appoint a committee of four to notify Superintendent of Public Instruction, Denise Juneau that we are in joint session and ready to receive the State of Education address. Motion carried.

President Peterson appointed Senators Zinke, Hawks and Representatives Reichner and McClafferty to escort Superintendent of Public Instruction, Denise Juneau into the House chamber.

Sgt-at-Arms Clark announced that the committee to escort Superintendent of Public Instruction, Denise Juneau awaits entrance to the House chamber. President Peterson requested that Sgt-at-Arms Clark admit Superintendent Juneau into the House chamber.

President Peterson introduced Superintendent Juneau.

Superintendent Juneau made the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Members of the 62nd Legislature, special guests, and friends of education:

Thank you so much for the warm welcome and the opportunity to be with you today. I would like to especially thank my brother, Ron Juneau, and my nephew, Lakota – a 3rd grader at Big Sky Elementary School in Billings - for sharing this day with me.

I would also like to thank my mom, Carol, and my dad, Stan, who are watching online. They supported me and my brother in our every endeavor, instilled in us a willingness to serve others, and made sure that we were successful in school because they knew becoming educated would open many doors for us.

My mom proudly served with many of you in both the House and the Senate. She is especially proud of the realization of Indian Education for All and that Montana has made great strides in fulfilling its constitutional obligation to recognize the distinct and unique cultural heritage of American Indians in its educational system. In a few short years, the Office of Public Instruction has developed over 300 classroom resources and offered training to thousands of educators. Teachers are now integrating accurate information about American Indians into classroom lessons about math, science, art, music, literature, and PE. Your past work to respect the Indian nations located in Montana and ensure they have a place in our public education system is seeing exceptional results. Just last week, more than 200 educators gathered in Helena for the IEFA Best Practices conference, and Montana is a recognized national leader in developing instructional materials and integrating Indian Education for All into classrooms. I would also like to give my appreciation to the staff at the Office of Public Instruction. My staff are dedicated, committed state employees who excel at delivering high-quality support to 828 schools, 15,077 school staff, and 141,807 K-12 students. They take great pride in doing work that matters. And I take great pride in leading the agency.

THIRTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 16, 2011

Joining us today in the gallery are also County Superintendents, who come from every corner of Montana. Thank you for your work on behalf of schools and students.

At OPI, we constantly work to make government more transparent and communication with the public easier. During the last two years, the Office of Public Instruction has entered the world of web 2.0 tools. You can visit our updated website that receives over 3 million hits per year; you can opt into our official email system and receive our communications to schools and subscribe to OPI e-news; you can become OPI's friend on Facebook; and we just recently launched MT OPI on i-Tunes where students and teachers can download professional development videos and curriculum resources for free anytime, anywhere. Technology offers all of us so many opportunities for communicating our work, being accountable, and providing accessibility. In fact, I'll bet Rep. Ellie Hill is "live-tweeting" this speech right now. All of you, tweeters or not, were sent by the voters to the 2011 Legislative Session to make responsible decisions, create jobs, grow our economy and ensure our state's long-term prosperity.

I know that each of us in this room values education, and although we may disagree on the best way to deliver it or fund it or improve it, we all know it's important and that it has significant meaning to the citizens of our state. That's why we as policymakers struggle to ensure we get it right so every student reaches his or her full potential.

Prioritizing and investing in public education during this session is imperative. Public education is still the great equalizer in America. It is open to all – to every child that walks through the door – no matter their ability, zip code, heritage, or economic background. And we ask a lot from our public schools. We ask our schools to produce students who know how to read, do quadratic equations, understand the scientific method, write an essay, give a speech, appreciate the arts, be healthy, understand their place in global society, grasp the foundational principles of our democracy, speak a language other than English, and use technology.

We all know that the end result of a quality education defines our state's future and creates its economic well-being. When you are in your committees and respective chambers, you must always remember the promises that public education holds for individuals, communities, our state, and our country.

There are students sitting in classrooms right now, learning to read, or on the playground at recess, or eating school lunch, or playing the recorder in music class. They don't know what is going on here at the Capitol January through April. They just know they like school, enjoy learning new things, and love their teacher. But, they are counting on you, members of the legislature, to protect the state's investment in their public school.

This morning, in some Montana town, a single mother living each day with courage, working two jobs, and stretching her budget to put food on the table and pay the rent, walked her child to her neighborhood school and trusted that he would get a good hot breakfast and lunch, be taken care of in a safe environment, and learn his A, B, C's. She doesn't have time to keep track of what is going on here at the Capitol. But, she is counting on you to help deliver a quality education to her child – so her hard work does not go to waste and her child has the opportunity to reach his full educational potential.

Many of us were born with certain privileges. My privilege was the stability of my parents, their support of my schooling, and their steadfast belief that I would go to college. However, some of our students do not have family members who attended college, have access to wealth, live in safe family environments, or simply have the opportunity to just be children.

That is why we must recognize that while education provides the means for all children to pursue success, a good education is oftentimes the only means for some children to break the cycle of poverty. Schools can make a huge difference for at-risk children by finding ways to help them overcome their challenges and help them succeed. I urge you to restore the $10 million at-risk funding for schools that was reduced to $2 last session so schools can provide programs that help these students, because a good education can transform their lives.

Montana has a long history of maintaining quality and excellence in its public education system – a long history of unwavering commitment to public education and a goal of graduating every Montana student from high school being prepared for college and careers.

And, because Montana continues to commit to quality and excellence, great things are happening in our classrooms and the citizens of Montana receive a quality product for the taxes they pay.

The National Assessment of Educational Progress, also called “The Nation’s Report Card,” is the ONLY standardized test that allows for direct comparison across states. It shows that the math skills of Montana students exceed the national average and continue to climb - Montana eighth graders scored better than students in all but two other states and Montana fourth graders scored better than students in all but four other states in the nation.

- The reading skills of Montana students continue to exceed the national average. The scores of Montana fourth and eighth-graders are among the top five highest scoring states as well.
- Montana students lead the nation in science scores. In eighth grade, we share the highest score in the nation with just three other states. Only one state scored higher than Montana’s 4th graders.
- Montana schools were recognized by the Education Trust for the performance levels of our low-income students. In Montana, we have some of the smallest academic disparities between low income and high income students in the nation.
- Our 2010 graduating class outpaced the nation in ACT scores – the test that measures college readiness.

Public education in Montana is not broken. In fact, it is thriving. We should all be proud of the hard work that these numbers reflect: the hard work of our students, our teaching force, and the communities that support Montana’s schools. And, we will continue to see this quality and excellence when we prioritize and invest in our public education system.

Now, I understand that as much as we can feel great about what we accomplish in K-12 education, we cannot afford to rest on our laurels. I believe in assessing our progress and confronting our challenges. Based on the dropout and graduation data we collect at OPI, we know there are too many Montana students that don't attain a high school diploma – right around 2,000 each year. The effects of dropping out are damaging to our state – with high school dropouts comprising 75 percent of incarcerated men and women and tens of millions of dollars spent each year in supportive services for adults who do not earn a high school diploma.

According to the Alliance for Excellent Education, if the male high school graduation rate increased by just 5%, MT's economy would see a combination of crime-related savings and additional revenue of $19.6 million each year. That should be reason enough for us to want to improve graduation rates.

Last fall, I launched an initiative called Graduation Matters Montana that works with schools, communities, and business partners to support kids staying in school. One piece of this initiative is legislative. I commend Senator Taylor Brown for working with me on SB 44, to increase the legal dropout age from “age 16” to “age 18 or upon graduation.” Passing this bill would have set an expectation that, in today's economic climate, it is imperative that a student stay in school and earn a diploma or certificate. The last time the age was adjusted was 90 years ago - in 1921. Our world is much different from that time, and our expectations should reflect our current economic structure and society. Despite this bill not getting out of the Senate Education Committee, I remain committed to Graduation Matters Montana and working with schools and communities to set the target higher, because I believe all our children can achieve more.

I recently received an e-mail from a former student thanking me for believing in her while she was in high school and for giving her hope that she could do something successful in her life. Although she left school before graduating, she did earn her GED and join the National Guard. She is now married, has two beautiful sons and is serving our country in Iraq. My response to her was that she was, and continues to be, worthy of high expectations. We should all believe in our students enough, and care enough about them, that we create a system of support for them to achieve high school success.

There are times when, because of life circumstances, people do not complete high school. We must still find ways for those adults to attain a diploma or certificate that opens doors to employers and college. Monday, the subcommittee on education appropriations heard from many people who benefitted from Adult-Basic Education programs. These programs offer adults, who did not make it through high school for one reason or another, a pathway to a GED, college, or the workplace. I urge you to restore the funding for these vital programs in communities all across Montana. They offer many people an option for a better life.

Part of keeping kids in school is making sure schools are safe places to learn. I was happy to stand with Attorney General Steve Bullock and many others in support of Senator Kim Gillan's Schools Are For Education, or the SAFE Act, which articulated that a safe and civil environment in school is necessary for students to be engaged in learning.

The Senate recently passed a bill on a 47-3 vote that prohibits hunters from being harassed, threatened, or intimidated – a bill with a $20,000 fiscal note. So, I was disappointed when the SAFE Act was tabled in the Senate Education Committee. I have to believe that the full Senate would have passed a bill that simply provides that parents and students can rely on their school to have clear and transparent definitions, procedures, and policies around bullying – a bill with a fiscal note of zero dollars.

During the hearing on the SAFE Act, we heard heart-wrenching stories from students who are bullied every day and stories from parents who are at a loss of how to help their child cope with bullies at school. Students should not be afraid to go onto the playground during recess or be afraid of being pushed, shoved, hit, slammed into lockers, humiliated daily, ridiculed relentlessly, be the subject of texted mean-spirited rumors, or have their tormentors follow them on the web 24/7.

As policymakers, we cannot look the other way and say “bullying has gone on forever” or “kids will be kids,” because excuses make us passive and indifferent. Bullying does happen in our schools. At some point, this body needs to send a message that it is not appropriate to bully, harass, threaten, or intimidate children in our schools.

One of the more demanding initiatives I have undertaken is improving student outcomes in schools and communities that are facing significant challenges. Under my Schools of Promise initiative, we are working to transform the four lowest performing school systems in the state.

Despite our great educational outcomes overall, we do have a few schools that need reform. These schools are located in communities that suffer deep generational, isolated, and concentrated poverty. Some of these communities have unemployment rates that hover around 70 percent – not just during the recession – but, always. Many students come to school with heavy loads of emotional trauma. Most students in these schools are not proficient in reading and math.

As the leader of the state’s public education system, I will not stand by and let another generation of students fail. Our state cannot afford to allow certain communities to languish. The hope for these communities, and indeed, for our state, will transpire when every child is successfully educated in a quality school. We must work with these schools, their staff, parents, students, and communities to raise academic achievement.

Under the Schools of Promise initiative, we developed a close partnership with these schools. It was not an easy task. Local union members showed tremendous courage and agreed to amend their collective bargaining agreements to work longer hours, more days, and be evaluated on stringent requirements, including student data. School boards had to agree in a couple of schools to replace their long-standing high school principal. Administrators had to agree that things were going to change, and OPI would be there to work alongside them on every aspect of this change. Communities had to agree to become more involved and connected to the school.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 16, 2011

We have four staff on the ground in each of these schools to work with the administration, teachers, the school board and the community. This work is by no means easy. In fact, there are difficulties at every turn. It is, however, vitally important work, and small stories of success are emerging. One of our community liaisons does home visits and asks families to describe the hopes and dreams they have for their children.

One mother, who does not have her own high school diploma, hopes her daughter achieves her dream of becoming a mechanical engineer and that her son reaches his goal of going into the military. She knows that her number one job is to get her children to school every day, to celebrate their academic success, and to believe in them. She posts their perfect-attendance certificates on her living room wall.

In another community, our staff identified ten students who were on their way to dropping out because they lack enough credits to graduate. Working with the school, our staff brought these students to a multiple-day training to help them reassess their choices and to imagine a better life for themselves. These students now meet every week to support each other to stay in school.

I grew up and attended school in a similar community - Browning. I received a quality education from Browning schools that led me to college, graduate school, and law school. The educational foundation I received in Browning led me to the teaching profession, the legal profession, and into a statewide elected position.

I know these schools of promise are capable of providing a quality education. I know these communities can come together to support their children and help them achieve greatness. There are students watching in Frazer today – one of our Schools of Promise. I know the students in Frazer are just as brilliant and capable as any other student in any of our other schools in Montana.

I have high expectations of you – students - and I need you to succeed – all of us in this chamber need you to succeed.

We will continue to work in partnership with the schools of promise to make sure their students are offered the opportunity to reach their full educational potential.

As State Superintendent, I strive to remain focused on meeting students' needs in our work. That is why we do such demanding work in all our initiatives, like Schools of Promise. We are tough, but fair, in our work with schools, educators, and communities, because sometimes children's lives hang in the balance.

I feel it is very important to bring a student voice to the table on state education issues. Oftentimes, adults plan and discuss educational policy, but we rarely talk to the people who will be most directly affected by our plans and discussions – the students. To meet this purpose, I recently brought together 40 students from 31 schools to meet as the first-ever State Superintendent's Student Advisory Board. This student group is very diverse. They come from Twin Bridges, Browning, Glasgow, Wibaux, and all points in between. Some are involved in extra-curricular activities; some get good grades, and some, not so good. Some have a great network of support that helps them get through school; some have had to overcome big challenges in life to stay in school. Some of them have dropped out of school and dropped back in; and some are going to be the valedictorian or salutatorian of their graduating class. But, all of them expressed their belief that becoming educated is important to their future success. These young people, both in the Advisory Group and in our schools, inspire my work as State Superintendent. My discussions with them always remind me that they are counting on us to do the right things – to create good student-centered policies, to set high expectations, and to support them in achieving their dreams.

And, we have had the legislature's help in the past to create relevant, real-world learning experiences for students and flexibility in their educational settings. The 2009 Legislature provided a piece of this flexibility by funding the Montana Digital Academy – an online learning opportunity for high school students.

It has just started its second semester and has over 2,000 students from 120 high schools enrolled in its 54 classes. Students in schools from Libby to Lodge Grass and from Westby to Whitefish are able to access classes as varied as AP English to Native American Studies to Mandarin Chinese to Oceanography. The governor's budget includes continued funding for the Digital Academy. I urge you to continue this successful innovative program so it continues to meet the growing demand for online learning. Our public education system must help students prepare for a future we have not yet imagined – and they need you to help them be successful.

We often hear a lot about a seamless education system that spans from Kindergarten through graduate school. Commissioner Sheila Stearns and I frequently bring our top policy teams together to talk about meeting our common goals of implementing dual enrollment, decreasing remediation rates, providing a comprehensive system of online learning, and working on smooth transitions for students. Our offices also work together on Big Sky Pathways, which provides career and technical courses in high schools that often lead to high-paying skilled jobs or a two-year college degree program.

All of Montana's high school students take at least one technical education course and over half take at least three classes. The state money for this program was stripped from our budget last week. I know Commissioner Stearns stands with me in urging you to restore these funds so high school students can continue to take these courses that help them become Montana's future work force.

I sincerely appreciate Commissioner Stearn's leadership in post-secondary education, her commitment to create an educated workforce in Montana, and her willingness to work with me toward an aligned, coherent kindergarten through college education system. Thank you for your partnership with K-12, Sheila.

I also work closely with the State Board of Public Education – the body that establishes accreditation standards – those targets of quality that schools must reach. The OPI implements the Board's standards and makes sure that schools are working toward these targets. I appreciate Chairperson Patty Meyer's leadership on the Board because she certainly has a

THIRTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 16, 2011

“students come first” approach. Thank you, Patty, for your commitment to students.

I would also like to recognize the Board of Public Education members seated in the gallery. Please stand. Thank you for your leadership on this most important board.

Patty and I know that we need to continually improve our system for the next generation of learners. To prepare Montana schools to excel in the 21st century, we organized a task force of stakeholders to review a major part of the Board’s accreditation standards to make them more performance based – using data to determine whether a school is providing a quality education. We understand that local districts know best how to deliver a quality education and this new accreditation model will give schools of all sizes the flexibility to offer high quality learning opportunities while insuring that students and staff are treated in a professional manner. To ensure our students are held to the highest academic standard, I am working with the Board to join 40 other states in adopting common national standards in reading and math that will provide a clear understanding to students and parents of what students are expected to learn in school – from grade to grade, school to school, and state to state.

The OPI also signed on as a governing state (meaning we get to fully participate and vote) in a national consortia that is developing assessments to measure these common standards. This means that we will have common standards that are measured by a common assessment that will let us know how our students stack up to the rest of the country. Given our track record of excellent educational outcomes, I welcome that opportunity.

Since becoming Superintendent, I have worked closely with the Legislature toward continuous improvement of the K-12 system. Last session, Senator Lake sponsored HJR 6 that called on my office, the BPE and the Legislature to develop K-12 shared policy goals.

My staff, Chairperson Patty Myers, along with Senator Bob Lake, Senator Bob Hawks, Senate President Jim Peterson, and Representative Edie McClafferty met several times during the interim, discussed the future of Montana’s education system, and established several priority goals we could all work on together. These shared policy goals were meant to be used by the Legislature during this session to frame education budget initiatives and other policy recommendations for the 2013 biennium, and I have offered several policy and budget legislative requests that matched these goals. These are the promises we intend to keep with this legislative body, but we need you to be a partner in meeting these goals and do what’s necessary on your end as well.

I know that you are dealing with difficult decisions about revenue and your constitutional duty to leave the session with a balanced budget. Our state constitution also says that “the legislature shall provide a basic system of free quality public elementary and secondary schools.”

We cannot allow our current revenue challenge to be an excuse for our state to retreat from our long tradition of providing every child a quality education. In fact, we must take this opportunity to prioritize funding for public education because quality schools are the key to lifting our state out of its recession and ensuring its long-term prosperity. Failure to invest in public education now will lead to disappointment in every other possible investment.

HOUSE JOURNAL
THIRTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 16, 2011

I know you are struggling to create a Montana of which all of us can be proud. And, of course, I urge you to continue to adequately fund public education. We must not forget, however, that while making critical investments in our students – those who will lead this state in the future – we must also protect those who are less fortunate and support those who are struggling mightily to lead a middle-class life, stay healthy, send their children to college, and retire with dignity. Those are Montana values. And, that is the role of government – to provide safety nets for people when necessary, to keep our communities safe, to create jobs, and to ensure educational opportunities for all. In fact, working together – in the light of day - is our best hope for achieving better lives for students and for all Montanans.

As we move through the next couple of months, please remember the critical importance of K-12 public education to our economic future and the lives of all of Montana children. You must maintain the quality and excellence in our public school system that our constituents have come to expect. The Governor has submitted a budget to you that prioritizes the government's duties, adequately funds K-12 education and leaves money in the bank.

Our students are doing well today because of the investments that the Legislature has made in the past. We know that when the state cuts support for public schools, local taxpayers are forced to pick up the tab in order to maintain excellence. Shifting the burden to local taxpayers in this manner has the same effect as an unfunded mandate. I urge you to fund K-12 education to the levels you find in the Governor's budget.

Priorities do matter. As leaders, you must be courageous and choose to prioritize and invest in our public education system. You must tell young people that you believe in them and then back it up with action. Resist the temptation to cut funds to schools, and instead, do what has to be done, and protect our most valuable long-term resource – our students.

I thank you, members of the Legislature, for serving the people of Montana. Leadership is never easy. However, leadership, especially in challenging times, means that you do the right thing. I ask that you do the right thing for those students sitting in classes right now who enjoy learning new things. Do the right thing for that single mother struggling to make ends meet who is counting on you to help deliver a quality education to her child so he has the opportunity for future economic success. It is only by maintaining a quality education system that we will truly meet our state's hopes and dreams

President Peterson requested that the committee of four escort Superintendent Juneau from the joint session.

Senator Essmann moved that the joint session be adjourned. Motion carried.

Representative McGillvray moved that the Republicans caucus. Without objection, so ordered.

PROCLAMATION to Recognize the Centennial Year of the Montana Nurses Association

WHEREAS, in 2012 the Montana Nurses Association will celebrate its 100th anniversary of providing invaluable services to those in need of health care across our state; and

WHEREAS, for a century, the Montana Nurses Association supported by its professional staff and resources, has proudly represented the voice of licensed nurses across the state; and

WHEREAS, in Montana there are over 16,000 nurses, including Registered Nurses, Licensed Practical Nurses, and Advanced Practice Registered Nurses working in hospitals, nursing homes, home care, hospice, outpatient clinics, nursing education, schools, public health, the insurance industry, and much more; and

WHEREAS, scientific research has shown that the direct involvement and sufficient numbers of professional nurses positively impact patient outcomes and are the key to the delivery of safe effective patient care; and

WHEREAS, the Montana Nurses Association provides leadership for the nursing profession and promotes quality health care for consumers through research, continuing education, and advocacy and by influencing health care policy in Montana.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT PROCLAIMED BY THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the State of Montana recognizes the Montana Nurses Association's contributions to the health of the citizens of our state for the past 100 years.

Representative McGillvray rose on a point of personal privilege to clarify on comments made earlier by Representative Malek. He stated that he had spoken with the two representatives who had been speaking at the time and they both stated they did not feel that either had said anything implying that they were more ethical than the other. He encouraged members to check with the offended party before rising on their behalf.

HOUSE JOURNAL
FORTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY - FEBRUARY 22, 2011

Representative Malek rose on a point of personal privilege to clarify that she didn't care whether the other representative wanted someone to rise on their behalf. She simply wanted members to stop implying that they were more ethical than one another. She wished to encourage members to refrain from attacking one another's character.

Representative McGillvray rose on a point of personal privilege to state that because the comments were deemed as not implying the other was unethical, and that no complaints were made by the members involved, the comment by Representative Malek was not needed.

Representative Sesso rose on a point of personal privilege. He stated that when a member feels they were being affronted they do have the right to rise, and that the members did not need to comment on people's integrity in the body.

HOUSE JOURNAL
SIXTY-THIRD LEGISLATIVE DAY - MARCH 21, 2011

(2) The board of investments shall use the difference between the $6,512,000 loan authorization and the amount of the loan authorization that will not be encumbered to determine the maximum level of debt service that may be required by the treasure state endowment program for fiscal years 2012 and 2013. For the purpose of this analysis, the board of investments shall assume that the amount reported by the department was an obligation of the treasure state endowment program on July 1, 2011, and the cost of the loan will be an obligation to the program. On or before August 1, 2011, the board of investments shall certify the resulting maximum level of debt service for fiscal years 2012 and 2013 to the department, the legislative fiscal division, and the office of budget and program planning.

(3) Subject to an appropriation limit, as provided in this subsection, if the maximum level of debt service for fiscal years 2012 and 2013 is less than $840,000, then the difference between $840,000 and the maximum level of debt service is appropriated from the treasure state endowment state special revenue account to the department of commerce to finance the grants authorized in [section 1]. The appropriation provided for in this subsection may not exceed $840,000.
